

Final Bulletins

Full Mobilization In Australia

SYDNEY (AP)—The Australian government early Thursday ordered that all Commonwealth land forces be brought up to full war strength by calling up additional personnel.

The order requires all unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 45, as well as married men from 18 to 35, to report immediately for military service.

Intensive battle training for all units was ordered.

3 More U-Boats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States army and navy forces have destroyed a total of 25 Axis submarines to date, the navy reported today in announcing three new sinkings of undersea craft.

Muselier Quits

MONTREAL (CP)—Vice-Admiral Emile Muselier, Free French naval commander, has resigned from the French National Committee in London, according to a cable received in Free French headquarters here today.

Women to Factories

OTTAWA (CP)—Movement of women into industry has started and will accelerate, but care must be taken to see their employment is so organized that trained men are not forced out of work, Elliott M. Little, director of National Selective Service, said today.

Sun Trial April 8

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hearing of charges against the Sun Publishing Company under Defence of Canada Regulations was set for April 8 by Magistrate H. S. Wood in city police court today.

The charges were laid against the company following publication in the Vancouver Sun of a series of three articles dealing with Pacific defence on March 13, 14 and 16.

Registree Jailed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cecil Dobby, 23, was sentenced to 10 days in jail today by Police Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson when he pleaded guilty to failing to notify the Department of War Services of his change of address. C. G. Pennoek, divisional registrar, said his department had been trying to locate Dobby, who was liable to be called for military training.

St. Nazaire Heroes May Yet Get Home

LONDON (CP)—There is a slender chance that a few more survivors of the British raid on the Nazi submarine base at St. Nazaire last Saturday morning may elude the Germans and reach England, two correspondents of the Exchange Telegraph agency who accompanied the raiding force reported today.

They said those left behind included the naval and military commanders of the expedition who stayed at the almost sure chance of death or capture to see the destruction was carried out.

They included Lt. Col. A. C. Newman, Commando chief, and Lt. Cmdr. S. H. Beattie, who took the destroyer Campbelltown up to the drydock gates.

RED MEN IN WHITE—White-clad troops hug the ground during an advance against German positions as the blast from the Red Army shells smash open a path ahead of them. The white uniforms make it hard for the Germans to spot the Russians against the early spring snow on the battlefields.

U.S.-Filipinos Invade Mindanao

WASHINGTON (AP)—In two spectacular raids on the island of Mindanao, American-Filipino troops destroyed 22 warehouses and a Japanese supply base near Digos and penetrated to the heart of the occupied city of Zamboanga, destroying machine gun nests and other military installations there, the War Department announced this afternoon.

Neither of the raiding parties suffered any casualties but Japanese losses were heavy in the foray into Zamboanga.

Loses Appeal

TORONTO (CP)—Appeal of Brig. Gen. D. C. Draper, Toronto police chief, against a conviction by Judge L. V. O'Connor at Cobourg, Ont., recently on a charge of dangerous driving, was dismissed today, Gen. Draper was fined $300.

Boulogne Bombed

LONDON (AP)—A force of British planes with fighting escort attacked the Boulogne docks this afternoon, the Air Ministry announced. One bomber was lost in heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Appreciate Press

OTTAWA (CP)—Newspapers have an important part to play in the new national selective service program, Elliott M. Little, director of the plan, said today.

"We appreciate the co-operation we have already had from the newspapers and we hope it will continue," he said.

Dominoes to Winnipeg

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charles McLachlan, president of the Canadian Basketball Association, announced this afternoon that Victoria Dominoes, B.C. titleholders, will engage Winnipeg St. Andrews in a best-of-five series for the western Canada championship in the Manitoba city the second week in April.

British Public In Offensive Mood

TORONTO—A growing restlessness and desire to take the offensive is indicated in a series of surveys just completed by the British Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll).

The number of persons dissatisfied with the government's conduct of the war has increased sharply during the winter, the surveys show. At present one half of all persons polled find fault with the war effort. In addition, more than two-thirds believe the time has come to take the offensive.

First question asked was: "Are you satisfied or dissatisfied with the government's conduct of the war?" Results obtained, together with results from the same question in June and November, 1941, follow:

	June 1941	Nov. 1941	Today
Satisfied	58%	44%	35%
Dissatisfied	30%	38%	50%
Undecided	12%	18%	15%

A second question in the British Institute survey shows that only one person in every 10, on the average, is in favor of continuing defensive operations for the rest of the year. Some 67 per cent in Britain favor taking the offensive.

2 Groups Reject Cripps Offer

To Bring Work To People

May Avoid Transfers In Manpower Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's new selective service program will be in operation in the next few days, Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service, said today.

Unemployment insurance officials will act as temporary officers of the service, he told reporters, and while it might be necessary to move the "people to the work" or "the work to the people," training of new workers under special programs might make large-scale movements of workers unnecessary.

Mr. Little said that since the Prime Minister's announcement of the manpower program March 24 there had been some movement back to the farms, believed to be seasonal.

Women not now employed, he said, could give valuable assistance by registering at unemployment offices.

Will Overcome Waste Of Man-hours

"Our job is to save man-hours," Mr. Little said. "As far as possible the work will be taken to the people rather than the people to the work." Large-scale movements of workers would probably prove inefficient, involving as much secondary labor in housing and other services as would be provided by other groups.

Rulings would be given on "restricted occupations" in which no physically-fit men between 17 and 45 may accept employment, where any doubt existed.

Some occupations are only partially essential, he said, citing newspapers and radio as examples. Not all the activities of either could be classed as essential either now or in the future.

Full Information To Be Gathered

A "planning department" charged with assembling details of Canada's manpower requirements will be set up, Mr. Little said.

Meanwhile plans to compile information to record the movement of labor were already under consideration.

To those uncertain what action they should take to make a greater contribution to the war effort Mr. Little said:

"Sit tight and carry on the job you are doing. Keep on the job you are trained to do until you are told you are needed in another job."

Ian Mackenzie Says B.C. Coast Has Priority

"First priority in the matter of A.R.P. equipment is now being given the Pacific coast," Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions and Health and B.C.'s representative in the federal cabinet, said today on his arrival in Victoria.

"We have been somewhat handicapped by priorities, but this is being gradually overcome and we are now getting our equipment," he said.

There are now 134 A.R.P. committees in British Columbia, Mr. Mackenzie said, and the whole province has been surveyed.

"Our troubles are practically all over—the troubles we had at the start were inevitable, because Canada, since the start of the war hadn't taken A.R.P. seriously," the minister said.

SCARCITY
Scarcity of rubber and metals has been largely responsible for slowness in obtaining equipment.

Mr. Mackenzie said he is pleased with the tremendous progress made in A.R.P. since he was last in B.C. in December.

"The new A.R.P. committee set up by Premier Hart, under W. C. Mainwaring is excellent and I have every confidence the public will be completely satisfied," he said.

Regarding the forthcoming plebiscite the minister said, "I think British Columbia will give the biggest affirmative vote in Canada—I certainly hope so."

He said he would give a radio broadcast from Vancouver next Wednesday urging British Columbians to vote "yes."

He said he is pleased with Japanese evacuation, although his active interest is only the fact that he is chairman of a sub-committee of the cabinet to advise on policy in this regard.

BUSY DAY

Mr. Mackenzie and his secretary, Norman Senior, arrived on the Vancouver night boat and walked in the early morning sunshine to the Empress Hotel. First visitor of the day was R. W. Mayhew, M.P. At 9:45 the minister met Premier John Hart at the Parliament Buildings. Later in the morning he had a conference with Mayor McGavin and A.R.P. officials at the Empress and at 1 went to Government House for luncheon with Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward. He will leave this evening free of engagements as he expects Defence Minister Ralston and Air Minister to arrive from the north.

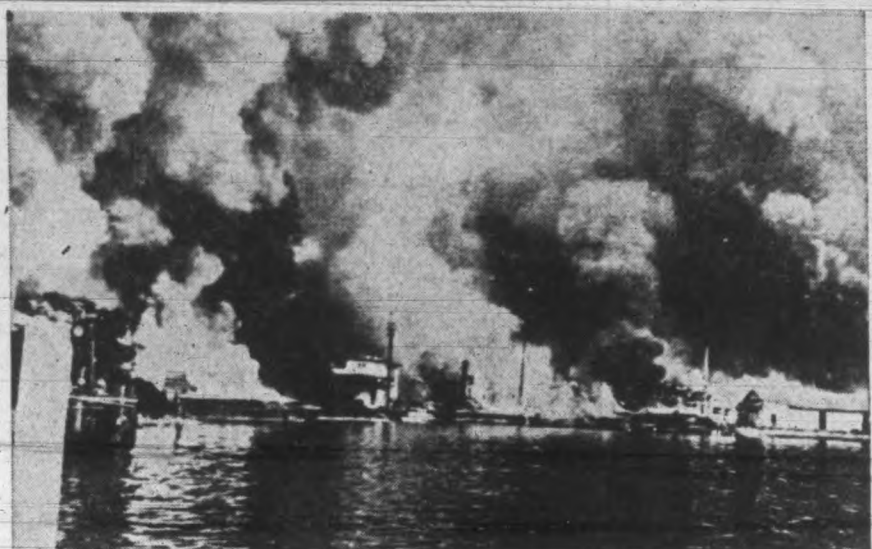

R.A.F. in Libya Calls for More Planes

LONDON (AP)—American-made bombers and fighters are needed urgently by the R.A.F. to check a German drive on Egypt and the Suez Canal this spring, a British aviation source said today.

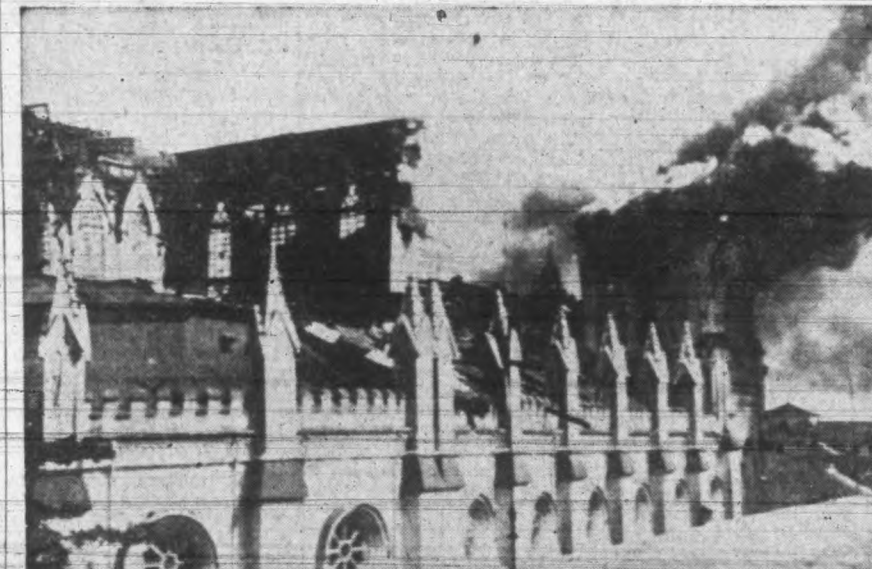

Stressing the "tremendous importance" of building up the air strength there after the "reshuffle" caused by the outbreak of war in East Asia, this source said Hitler "must try an advance in the Middle East this spring."

"At best," he said, "he hopes to drive us out of Egypt and take Suez. At worst he hopes to pin a maximum of British forces in Libya."

The continuing aerial assault on Malta was described as a prelude to the coming drive.

FIRST PICTURES SHOWING BOMB RUINS IN MANILA—Towering plumes of smoke and flames reach toward the skies as the U.S. naval base at Cavite burns after the Japanese raid Dec. 12. U.S. Signal Corps photo. Lower, civilian structures in Manila suffered, too, as shown in this picture of residential ruins on the outskirts of the Philippines capital.

SANTO DOMINGO CHURCH, world-famous Catholic edifice in Manila's famed walled city, burns after Japanese bombs scored a direct hit in attacks on the then open city. A priceless library and art objects were destroyed. This is another first picture to be received from Manila since the war broke out.

Lay Made Captain

OTTAWA (CP)—Promotion to acting captain of Commander Horatio Nelson Lay, director of the operations division of the Royal Canadian Navy, was announced today by naval service headquarters.

Capt. Lay took over his present post last June after commanding the Canadian destroyer Restigouche, which was in the first group of Canadian destroyers on the scene of hostilities three months after the outbreak of war.

(Capt. Lay is a son-in-law of Mrs. D. E. Campbell, 1029 Linden Avenue, Victoria.)

Panama Ship Sunk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy announced today that a medium-sized Panamanian merchant vessel had been torpedoed off the Atlantic coast. No other information about the torpedoing was made available here.

Low Birthrate Perils England

WASHINGTON—State promotion of large families similar to programs undertaken by Germany and Italy is urged by Dr. A. Spencer Paterson, eminent British physician, in the current issue of the British medical journal, the Lancet, just received here.

"If the family of two children comes to be considered normal," says Dr. Paterson, "the day of England as a world power is past. Any country whose families average four children, given anything like equal conditions, is likely to outstrip one like ours, whose birthrate replaces the present population by only 75 per cent."

Dr. Paterson declared that a "heavy responsibility" may be charged against any legislating body "which encourages late marriage such as at present obtains in the medical and nursing professions."

HUNGER REVOLTS AT ESSEN PLANTS

LONDON (CP)—The Moscow radio reported today that "hunger revolts" took place a few days ago among workers of Essen, the German munitions centre, and declared police guards and armed storm trooper formations were being increased at German war factories.

The Essen disturbances occurred when cutting of the bread ration was announced a few days ago, the radio said, and such slogans as "We want more bread," "Stop the war" and "Down with Hitler" appeared on factory walls.

Police carry out exercises which involve the erection of barricades and the posting of machine guns on roofs of neighboring buildings when the shifts are changing at Neukoeln and other factory districts of Berlin, the broadcast added, and special

Moslem Demands, Defence Control Snag Negotiations

NEW DELHI (CP)—Two of India's most important minority groups rejected the British proposals for postwar Dominion status for India today, the extremist Hindu organization Mahasabha joining the Sikhs in registering a negative response.

The working committee of the Mahasabha announced a decision that the proposals were unacceptable a few hours after the Sikh All-Parties Committee had turned thumbs down.

The Sikhs, a Hindu warrior caste, rejected the plan as submitted by Britain's special envoy, Sir Stafford Cripps, on the grounds that it would leave them at the mercy of the Moslem majority in Punjab province.

Final Decisions By Friday

It appeared likely that Sir Stafford would not have the final decisions of all the major India groups before Friday. The All-India Congress Party working committee, whose stand is the most important, was drafting its reply today, but it was not known when it would be handed to Sir Stafford.

The Moslem League adjourned its executive session until Friday, when it is to announce its verdict. As the decision of the Congress Party was awaited the opinion was widely held that that potent, ardently Nationalist movement would spurn the British terms.

The chief stumbling block to acceptance was the requirement that India's wartime defences be left in British hands.

Say Failure Would Be Tragedy

A last-minute glimmer of hope was seen, however, in a joint statement of Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and Dr. Mukund Ramrao Jayakar, spokesmen of India's nonparty leaders, who said "it would be a tragedy if the Cripps mission failed, for it would produce a keen sense of disappointment and frustration and provoke antagonism which in our opinion would be disastrous in this hour of crisis."

Although urging that Britain compromise somewhat on the defence issue, these leaders said Britain's proposals "make it clear that after the war India will not have to struggle for recognition of its constitutional and international status."

Gandhi Shares In Writing Statement

The answer of the Congress Party's working committee, it was understood, was being drafted by Mohandas K. Gandhi and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, both former Congress presidents, for final consideration by the committee.

N. C. Chatterjee, working president of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha, telegraphed that organization's Bengal branch that "we will reject Pakistan in any shape or form."

Pakistan—autonomous Moslem states—has been demanded consistently by the Moslem League and the proposal submitted to India by Sir Stafford Cripps envisaged separate governments, if the Indians chose, to satisfy the country's 240,000,000 majority Hindus and 77,000,000 minority Moslems.

Kill Off Dutch Jews

LONDON (AP)—The Netherlands government in exile announced tonight that 1,200 Dutch Jews, sent by the Germans to enforced labor in the salt and sulphur mines at Mauthausen, have all died and that the Germans had deliberately sent them without protection into the "poisonous vapors."

"The protests of the civilized world, when informed by the Netherlands government, were unavailing," said the announcement, made on radio Orange.

Police committees have been formed to deal with sabotage. Two important centres in Poland for the illicit sale of German army gasoline have been discovered and high German officers of the army, air force and Gestapo have been arrested, it was said.

Holding Foe in New Guinea

33 Jap Planes in 3 Days
Bagged by Allied Airmen

By C. YATES McDANIEL
MELBOURNE (AP)—United States and Australian bombers, operating in the face of heavy tropical storms, struck destructive new blows at two Japanese bases north of this continent today.

A communique said it was believed six enemy planes were destroyed on the ground, six others were damaged, and many fires and explosions were touched off by Australian bombers which attacked Kupang, on Timor Island, while an Allied force scored numerous hits with heavy bombs on an airdrome runway at Salamaua, New Guinea.

This continuation of the aerial offensive by Australia's defenders came on the heels of an official recapitulation listing 33 enemy planes as put out of action in three days. Four were reported destroyed, 18 probably destroyed, and 11—including four flying boats machine-gunned in a previous raid on Kupang—as damaged.

Striking Successes
Made Without Loss

All these attacks were made without loss to the United Nations' air forces.

There was growing optimism among Australian observers that the Japanese now can be held off in New Guinea, although they were cautious not to over-emphasize the enemy's recent withdrawal from the inundated Markham Valley.

Nevertheless, they said, the withdrawal means that Japan's hold now is confined to the narrow coastal strip where her position may be made precarious. The vital point, in these informants' view, is that the Japanese now cannot disperse their planes—which was seen as a prime goal to the march into the valley.

The arrival of the wet season, which lasts three months, was accepted as the chief cause for the withdrawal, but it was believed also that heavy air blows struck at the invaders' shipping and planes were another factor. Meanwhile, Army Minister Francis M. Forde said Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander of the United Nations forces in the southwest Pacific, had called on him and expressed approval of the reorganization of the Australian army.

Aussie Generals
Impress MacArthur

Mr. Forde said Gen. MacArthur had made certain suggestions regarding the army and Australian defenses which are receiving immediate attention. He quoted the general as saying he had been impressed with the leading Australian officers he had met and was certain he and Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, commander of ground troops in Australia, would work together "like twin brothers."

Mr. Forde announced that Brig. Clive E. Steel had been promoted to major-general and appointed Engineer-in-Chief of the Australian army.

It was stated authoritatively that Maj.-Gen. John Northcott, commander of an armored division, had been appointed to an "important position."

Other changes announced included the appointment of Maj.-Gen. H. R. H. Robertson, one of the leaders of the Libyan campaign, to succeed Gen. Northcott.

Australian Forces
On Full War Basis

Under the army's regrouping scheme, older Australian militia officers will give way in the field to younger men with a modern outlook and physically and temperamentally fitted to modern warfare.

Their training will be under actual war conditions. All senior officers who returned from fighting overseas insisted on the need for hardening almost to the limit of endurance.

Concentrations of troops in Australia are on a war footing as regards training, leave and food and officers have been told to impart to the men a frontline outlook.

The introduction of field censorship by the military is another indication that actual battle conditions have been set up.

The fact that in the United States the land-based air force is part of the army organization will profoundly influence the conduct of operations in Australia, observers said. Army and air co-operation now has assumed front rank importance in tactical operations.

Nazis Lose 2,400,
Fail to Stop Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—German counter-attacks which cost the Nazis 2,400 men in a desperate attempt to regain lost ground were announced today by the Russians, who said one crossroads village changed hands several times in a battle into which both sides hurled medium and heavy tanks, artillery and planes.

The Germans finally were forced back there, Tass reported, and the Soviet Information Bureau declared that altogether the Red Army won back three towns in the latest tests of strength.

In the fight for the crossroads town the Germans lost 250 men, Tass said, 1,800 German dead were left on another battlefield in the central sector after a four-day battle.

On the Kalinin front, northwest of Moscow, one unit successfully repelled a German counter-attack and inflicted losses on the Germans in a pursuit. The report said more than 350 dead Germans remained on the battlefield.

Heavy losses have been inflicted on the Germans in stiff fighting over a central front sector, a Pravda dispatch said.

Dozens of Germans were killed in street fighting through which Red Army men captured a strongly-fortified village. "24 sub machine guns and machine guns, three field guns and a large quantity of other war equipment."

Masses Prepare
For Spring Fight

LONDON (CP)—Red Army men of Sebastopol, veterans of a 150-day siege, were reported counter-attacking today in the Crimea preliminary to vast spring engagements which London observers believe will involve about 4,500,000 Germans and 7,000,000 Russians.

Moreover, there was Axis accounts of new Russian thrusts against Kharkov, Donetsk Basin industrial centre.

Bucharest advices relayed by the Vichy radio said Soviet armored forces, following artillery preparation which lasted until Monday midnight, had launched an offensive at the German defences of Kharkov from three sides, north, east and south.

Tass declared the Germans had sacrificed 45,000 men, including "units reserved for their much-advertised spring offensive," in vain efforts to capture Sebastopol, Soviet Black Sea naval base, and that action to break their ring is under way.

Renewed German efforts to take over all the Crimea and crack Russian defence lines before the oil-rich Caucasus on the 400-mile southern mainland front between Orel and Taganrog were forecast.

Listening post advices suggested to one responsible foreign source that the Germans are preparing for a series of southern drives "to clear the railroads and bases they need if they are ever to shake hands with the Japanese in Persia or the Indian Ocean."

Russian submarines "in the Black Sea were reported by an authoritative source today to be effectively attacking German sea communications between Constantinople, Rumania, and the German-held Russian port of Odessa.

Declaring the Russian Black Sea fleet is making a "very powerful contribution toward a final Russian victory," he said that while the fleet remained in being there is little chance of a successful German attempt to land forces on the east or south-east shores of the Black Sea.

Quebec Hopes High
For Balanced Budget

QUEBEC (CP)—Hon. Arthur Matheson, provincial treasurer, said in his budget speech to the Legislative Assembly today that the government not only expects to balance its budget for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1943, but also hopes to show a surplus of $370,911.

Delivering the speech shortly before the House adjourned for the Easter recess, Mr. Matheson said no new taxes will be imposed to increase revenues.

Revenues for the year, which begins today, are estimated at $89,656,747, and expenditures at $89,285,835. The surplus in revenue was estimated, the treasurer said, despite the fact the government has abolished tolls on all bridges belonging to the province and that it plans to pay $5,170,000 into the sinking fund.

Find Substitute
For Morphine

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
BOSTON—A non-habit-forming substitute for morphine, a major goal of medicine for many years, was announced today to the Federation of American Societies for experimental biology. The new drug is a synthetic, that is, an artificially-made substance.

The morphine-substitute was made in effect by taking something resembling atropine and changing it into something resembling morphine. Three reports were made.

David R. Climenko, Winthrop Chemical Company, Rensselaer, N.Y., reported the making of the drug, and its effects on hundreds of human beings were detailed by Dr. Robert C. Batterman, New York University School of Medicine, and Dr. C. K. Himmelsbach, U.S. Public Health Service, Lexington, Ky.

War Council
At Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Pacific War Council, representing seven United Nations actively fighting in the Pacific theatre, met here for the first time today in what members said afterwards was a tremendously valuable conference.

Seated around a White House cabinet table with President Roosevelt were officials of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, China, the Netherlands and Great Britain.

Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese foreign minister, told reporters: "We will be getting to grips with the whole situation more and more."

To a question where he had received any encouragement regarding his own country's problems, he replied the emphasis was on the over-all war effort rather than the interests of any single nation.

The participants indicated that Mr. Roosevelt acted as presiding officer and did a large portion of the talking.

Viscount Halifax, British ambassador, representing Great Britain, said there was a general review of the war situation by the President and "various points were considered and discussed." He said the next meeting was scheduled for next Tuesday.

Both Walter Nash, New Zealand Minister to the U.S., and Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian Minister of External Affairs, agreed their countries had had a full opportunity to express their views. Dr. Evatt said the conference provided a "very satisfactory beginning."

The discussions, Nash said, were not devoted to military matters alone.

Quiet in Libya

CAIRO (AP)—British army headquarters said in its briefest communique today that there was "nothing to report" on the Libyan battle situation.

Former Victorian Named
To Washington Committee

Major-Gen. Maurice Pope, well known here some time ago when he was stationed at Work Point, has been appointed representative of the War Committee of the Canadian Cabinet in Washington, D.C., it is announced today.

His task in the U.S. capital will be to maintain contact with the combined chiefs of staff committee and the planning committee which operates in connection with that body.

HERE IN 1926-28

Major-Gen. Pope came to Victoria in February, 1926 as General Staff Officer, M.D. 11, with the rank of major, being transferred to the Quebec garrison in April, 1928. He served a term at the London War Office and held various posts up to the outbreak

Planes Decide Burma's Fate

Chinese Fight Clear
Of Trap at Toungoo

Associated Press
Toungoo was abandoned Tuesday by the fierce fighting remnant of the Chinese garrison which held out there through five days of terrific air and ground assaults and then battered a way over fields of Japanese dead to rejoin troops which their American commander, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, personally led to their relief.

Not until ordered by radio to retreat after Stilwell's forces had proved unable to crack the Japanese line 12 miles north of the town did the garrison budge from its shallow machine gun holes and rifle pits in the eastern outskirt of Toungoo.

JOIN MAIN ARMY

The Chinese crossed the Sittoung River under almost point-blank fire, cutting a bloody swathe through the invaders' lines, and scattered in the wooded hills northeast of the town, whence they made their way north to the main Chinese lines.

Despite the battering they withstood as they forced the Japanese to pay in blood for every inch of the town, the garrison had showed no sign of surrendering.

The fight they put up made the battle of Toungoo the fiercest of the Burma campaign so far.

MATTER OF DAYS

While military quarters in London were saying that British air support—or lack of it—probably will decide the "battle of Burma" in a matter of days, rather than weeks or months, the Chungking press appealed to the Allies today to send air reinforcements to Burma immediately to support Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's armies.

The newspapers said lack of adequate plane strength had caused numerous Allied reverses since the Pacific war began.

Former Victorian Named
To Washington Committee

Major-Gen. Maurice Pope, well known here some time ago when he was stationed at Work Point, has been appointed representative of the War Committee of the Canadian Cabinet in Washington, D.C., it is announced today.

His new appointment welcomed by United States authorities, is expected to give Canada a direct voice in the discussions of high Allied strategy which take place in Washington.

TO BE AVAILABLE

Gen. Pope, former vice-chief of the Canadian general staff, will not be a member of the combined chiefs of staff committee which consists of British and United States staff officers, but he will maintain contact with it, will attend meetings when matters affecting Canada are under discussion, and will be available at all times for consultation.

A New Delhi communique said today British and Indian detachments cut off from Promé by a Japanese wedge across the road at Shwedawing had battled their way back to the main British line in a two-day fight which left the invaders' forward forces badly mauled.

BAR PROMÉ ROAD

Doggedly, the British and Indian forces still barred the way into Promé, gateway to the west Burma oilfields, with their patrols along the Irrawaddy pulled back to guard their right flank while they waited for the full shock of the Japanese attack from the south.

The British communique said Japanese warplanes had complete control of the air over the battlefield.

Manitoba Storm
Worst in 25 Years

WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba has recovered from one of the worst snow and sleet storms in 25 years.

The blizzard raged over the province last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, disrupting transportation and communication lines and burying city streets and rural highways under snowdrifts ranging from 5 to 15 feet high in some places. Only today the censor permitted publication of news of the storm outside the province.

Train travel west of Winnipeg was at a standstill in some districts, with the main line of the Canadian National Railways hard hit in the region of Firdale. With the main line blocked by huge drifts, transcontinental trains had to be rerouted through Dauphin, Man., and Canora, Sask., and one eastbound train arrived in Winnipeg 51 hours late. Due to arrive at 5.50 p.m. Friday, the train arrived here at 9 p.m. Sunday. Passengers told of drifts "as high as mountains" at some places along the right of way across the prairie.

Blades a'Plenty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Office of Price Administration says there won't be a razor blade shortage, after all, and it is not necessary to stock up with them. Men who do that are hoarders, said Dan West, director of O.P.A.'s consumer division.

Rush for shaving tackle was touched off by last week's War Production Board order curtailing output of safety razor blades to the monthly average production in 1940.

NEW YORK (AP)—Separated from the mainland by 50 miles of water is the island of Ceylon, like a teardrop fallen from India.

Since the fall of Singapore, the island base at Trincomalee is the Allies' only useful base north of Capetown and east of Suez.

Ceylon controls the approaches to India's eastern ports, which are inlets for China's supplies. It now is the key to Allied supply routes running from the middle east to Australia.

It is only 800 miles from the Japanese-occupied Andaman Islands in the Bay of Bengal.

In enemy possession Ceylon would provide the necessary base for invasion of southern India.

Only 15,000 are European, mostly British. They are the government officials and the planters. The planters, who live on estates in the upcountry, begin their work at daylight at 6 a.m.

They return from their rides over the estates at 11 for the "planter's breakfast" of rice, curry, beer, then take a siesta until 3 p.m.

The estate bell rings and the planter and his workmen again venture into the hot, sticky atmosphere.

Socially the planters mix with the army officials in Colombo, naval officers in Trincomalee. Once a year when the crops are in they all come to Colombo for planter's week, a holiday of tennis, cricket, afternoons at the G.O.H., evenings of dancing.

Twice as numerous as the Europeans are the Burghers. They are the descendants of Dutch and Portuguese who once ruled the island. For the most part they are tradesmen. They adhere to European dress.

SINGHALESE
There are 3,500,000 Singhaleses. Their language is predominant in Ceylon, but with slight dialectal differences the spoken language is the same throughout the island.

Singhaleses men wear the long-skirted kombay and are not properly dressed unless they have a tortoiseshell comb backwards on the top of their heads.

Singhaleses women wear a tight-fitting basque above their comb boys. Their distinguishing features are glossy black hair, brilliant eyes, nice teeth and gentle manners.

The Tamils, immigrated from southern India, number 1,500,000. They work in the rice paddies and the fields. Their costume is a loin cloth and they wear turbans instead of combs in their hair.

There are perhaps 500,000 Moors, Malays and other minorities.

Education is compulsory from the ages of 6 to 14.

Dominant religion is Buddhism. Chief products are tea, rubber, coconut, rice, cinnamon, cacao, citronella, tobacco.

Twelve thousand miles of well-surfaced roads ring the circumference and cross the interior of Ceylon. Four thousand miles more of picturesque red laterite cart tracks, traversed by thatched bullock carts, supplement them in dry weather.

Since 1884 every adult man has been required to give six days of labor or the equivalent in taxes for road improvement. Canals provide some transportation.

The island's known history began with an Aryan invasion from north India in the sixth century B.C. For many centuries it was ruled by the Singhalese dynasties.

It was conquered and ruled by the Portuguese in the 16th century, by the Netherlands from the middle of the 17th until the end of the 18th when Britain took it and gave Java as a settlement.

Today, Ceylon must fill the breach opened when Java fell.

The once powerful port of Trincomalee has apparently been rebuilt quietly in recent months and probably is about equal in importance to Surabaya in Java.

The circular four-mile harbor, which has repair facilities for ships of light cruiser tonnage, is under command of Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Layton. Heading ground forces under his supreme command is Lt.-Gen. Henry Pownall.

Frederick J. Fisher, eldest of the seven brothers and who helped to pioneer the Fisher Body Corporation, died last July 14. Albert Fisher, uncle of the brothers and who figured in the early days of the corporation which was to be so prominent in the industry, died a few weeks ago.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, where his father's blacksmith shop was the "school" which trained the older Fisher brothers for their careers in a new field of effort. Howard was educated there and at the University of Notre Dame.

Eventually he joined his brothers in the prospering automobile business in Detroit.

The Visiting Ministers

TO INSPECT PACIFIC COAST DEFENCES, to see for themselves what has been done, is being done, and what may have to be done to give British Columbia adequate protection against possible invasion, Minister of National Defence Ralston, Air Minister Power and Pensions Minister Mackenzie have come to this province and are expected in the city this evening. While Victorians are always happy to welcome members of the Dominion government at any time, provincial and civic officials, as well as the populace generally, have eagerly looked forward to the opportunity now to be afforded them of discussing at close range those matters which for many weeks have agitated the public mind.

Not that British Columbia's own representative in the federal cabinet, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, or Victoria City's member, Mr. Mayhew, has failed to press British Columbia's claim to special consideration in the light of events since Pearl Harbor; on the contrary. But their joint and persistent efforts—supported by other provincial members of the House of Commons—to stir the government in general and the responsible departments in particular have not appeared to produce the results which the exigencies of these times obviously demanded.

Nor is this to suggest that Colonel Ralston or Major Power has been unable to view the Pacific scene in its true perspective. Neither could broadcast details of the measures taken and contemplated; and we must assume these to be adequate to meet such emergencies as may reasonably be anticipated. The presence of the three ministers on the coast, however, is an earnest of their desire to do what the circumstances dictate.

Hopes For 1942 Victory

THOSE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS OF the Soviet Union, from Premier Stalin down, who have read and digested the translation of the radio address delivered by Lord Beaverbrook from Miami on Sunday evening must have realized that Britain—plus Canada and the United States—fully understands how vital it is that the Russian armies be constantly supplied with an expanding stream of every kind of equipment essential for the destruction of the Nazi Wehrmacht. Again in the neighboring Republic to speed lend-lease aid, the Canadian-born British newspaper publisher and former ministerial colleague of Mr. Churchill, by virtue of what he saw for himself in Russia and on the eastern front, told the millions who composed his invisible audience that "the hopes of humanity" are centred on the "most critical battlefront in the history of civilization," and that the battle of 1942, unlike the defensive type of warfare in 1941, offers a chance to smash Germany.

After suffering "all the vexations of defeat and retreat," exclaimed Lord Beaverbrook, "the cry goes up now for offensive action... this is the proper mood for great nations who are resolved to remain great." And offence is obviously the mounting sentiment among the peoples of the United Nations. How it will be expanded, when and where, it is useless for the layman to pretend to know or guess. But it is clear to the average mind untutored in the strategy of war that Russia and Germany, with all their military might, are locked in the greatest battle of all time; and if the outcome of that distinct conflict in the global struggle is to be victory for the armies of the Soviet Union, the great arsenals of this hemisphere and of Great Britain must dispatch every ounce of equipment to Stalin's men that can be spared—even if some risks have to be undertaken in the doing of it. If Hitler's much-advertised spring or summer offensive is prevented, or stopped before it materially affects the general situation, the whole course of the war conceivably may be changed. Ultimate victory would be much nearer.

Defiance at Riom

FORMER PREMIER EDOUARD DALADIER kicked over the traces in the courtroom at Riom yesterday and probably persuaded Adolf Hitler and Marshal Petain that the sooner these fantastic trials are called off the better it would be for the peace of mind of the Fuehrer of all the Germans and the head of the Nazi-dominated Vichy regime. Specifically answering questions about the numerical inferiority of French tank strength, explaining, too, how General de Gaulle's concept of motorized warfare harmonized with Germany's choice of the dive-bomber, the former Premier intimated that France would rise again and probably beat the Germans in another war. But he was not in a mood to let it go at that; he raised his voice and assured the court that the officer die-hards were opposed to all new ideas—such as armored divisions and attacking airplanes—while their "hatred of novelty, hatred of intellectual daring, and hatred of modernization paralyzed the army." By way of good measure in testimony not at all accommodating to either Hitler's or Petain's book, Daladier declared that the Stuka type of aircraft actually originated in France in 1934, only to be copied two years later by the Germans!

Hitler's object in pressing for these trials of France's political and military leaders, of course, was to expose the persons guilty of committing the French to war with Germany. That scheme went awry soon after the proceedings opened. Then the collaborationists thought it would be a good idea to pin the cause of defeat on the incarcerated politicians and generals; it was at that point that historical fact caught up with Petain and those of his colleagues who shared his ignorance of modern war and its requirements—their refusal to pay the least attention, for example, to what the Russian manoeuvres had revealed in 1935. Neither French nor British military experts could find a general staff ear receptive to their advice. Petain, indeed, put his objections to such new-fangled notions in writing, in a preface to General Chauvineau's book, "Is Invasion Still Possible?" The author said No; the aged Marshal agreed and promptly pooh-poohed General de Gaulle's positive view that tanks and bombers could easily flatten all antiquated forms of resistance. Small wonder the faces of France's "Colonel Blimps" have assumed a crimson hue.

Leonard Raven-Hill

THAT ALMOST EXTINCT BAND OF brilliant artist-cartoonists of the Victorian era who gave the best of their careers to "Punch" has just suffered another loss in the death, at 75, of Leonard Raven-Hill. Back in 1896 he began to "draw" for the old and internationally-famous humorous weekly and few issues missed one or more of his contributions between then and his retirement in 1935. During the years of the first Great War he produced many moving cartoons which imparted more point to the news of the day than columns of letterpress; as a pictorial propagandist his bold strokes and draughtsmanship furnished a tonic for sagging morale in the dark days. One of his cartoons when food was running short captured the imagination of the public. It depicted a peer of the realm and a navy-laborer to us—brandishing their ration cards in a butcher's shop, the former in coronet and morning coat, and the latter with cap and pants tied at the knee.

Working man: "What's your fancy, mate? Mine's a couple of sausages."

Peer of the Realm: "Well, sir, I was wondering how much saddle of mutton I can get for fivepence."

In the evening of his days in the Isle of Wight, Mr. Raven-Hill no doubt recalled how the shortage of food after Germany began her unrestricted submarine campaign in 1917 brought peer and peasant to the same level, just as the indiscriminate bombing of London in the late summer of 1940 caused May-fair and Millwall to rub shoulders in air-raid shelters—reproducing the alchemy of a quarter of a century earlier; but, in this instance, with much wider and more promising implications. Incidentally, while the veteran of 40 years with "Punch" has left life's draughtboard, his old colleague, Sir Bernard Partridge, now in his 81st year, still turns out his weekly full-page cartoon—with no less than 51 years of service to this unique weekly behind him. But he is about the only survivor of the galaxy of brilliant cartoonists who have contributed to "Punch" in the last 100 years. Shades of Richard Doyle, John Leech, Sir John Tenniel, E. T. Reed and others!

Selling Like Hot Cakes

ALTHOUGH IT HAS NOT BEEN REVIEWED in the reputable literary supplements, we learn that the best-selling book in the United States today is not the outstanding publication of the month, but none other than the Red Cross first aid book; it is even outselling the Bible, and that is an accomplishment of no mean order. More than 9,000,000 copies have come off the press since Pearl Harbor, and the printers are trying to accelerate their production beyond the current 100,000 a day. Red Cross headquarters estimates the book's readers are enrolling in first-aid training courses at the rate of 40,000 a day. Such words as tourniquet and pressure point and traction splint are finding their way into the everyday vocabulary. These figures should help to quieten the charge of "complacency," at least in one phase of our neighbor's war effort. They indicate there are, throughout the country, persons who realize that "it can happen here," and who will be able to meet the emergency when and if the bombers come.

MORE THAN CHERRY BLOSSOMS THIS SPRING

From New York Post

Spring is here and the Japanese commander of home defenses, one Lieut. Gen. Kobayashi, is worried. With the weather clearing he warns his people to expect American bombers to come winging down from their bases in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands or from China.

We hope the general has every reason to be worried, and we think he has. Our Aleutian Islands point at the heart of the Japanese Islands. We don't know where our advanced military airports are located and we wouldn't tell if we did.

But any one can measure the distances from sections of the coastline still held by our ally China. Foochow, recently recaptured by the Chinese, is only 125 miles from the Formosa base from which the attack on the Philippines was launched. Wenchow is only 600 miles from the vital port of Nagasaki and 900 miles from Osaka, the industrial heart of Japan. Tokyo is 266 miles from Osaka.

Yes, we think the Japs have every right to look forward to something besides cherry blossoms this spring.

Bruce Hutchison

TOUGH GUY

MR. DONALD GORDON, our Number One Tough Guy, says he will put us all on rations if we don't behave better. He is the lad to do it and will do it, you may be sure, if we continue in our present ways. The trouble, of course, is the increasing shortage of goods, which always occurs in a war, without a corresponding decline in the public's appetite. Everybody expects to buy and use as much as ever, even though there are less goods on the shelves.

The natural result of such a process, if left unchecked, is to let the people with the most money get all the goods while the poor man gets none, which is called inflation. There are only two ways of preventing it. Either the public itself must reduce its demands and buy less or the government must see that each person gets his proper share.

The latter method is the more scientific but highly bothersome. It means ration cards for everything. It means consulting your ration book before you risk the purchase of a new shirt. It also means setting up a teaming organization of inspectors, regulators and snoopers to see that the scheme is carried out. Most countries maintain a vast army of such persons and the most efficient countries maintain a secret police as well to make sure that no one chisels. This is the kind of thing we shall come to unless the public rations itself by using less of the things that are short.

If the people of Canada are not capable of self-regulation they will have to take the other kind and it serves them right. Probably we shall face a good deal more of this sort of thing which could be avoided, but for a few chiselers. One has seen the widespread chiseling in the voluntary gasoline rationing and there may be much of the same thing in the sugar ration. Certainly there is little sign that people are driving more slowly to save precious rubber.

The public of Canada is expert at damping the government for going slow in the war. If half the energy thus utilized were devoted to the fulfillment of the government's requests to the consumers our inflation problem would be solved.

FATAL PLEA

AS THE INVARIABLE advocate of lost causes certain people have come to me and asked me to intervene in the case of two spaniels who are threatened with extinction. They tell me that these animals were given to the Solarium at Mill Bay and are intimate friends of the children there, but certain interests are determined to remove them. They seem to think (contrary to medical opinion) that dogs are harmful to sick children, though I cannot imagine anything more likely to maintain the child's interest in life. However, now that I have said a word on behalf of the two puppies, they are as good as dead but at least the kiddies will know that I made my usual feeble protest against the madness of all grown-ups.

SIZE

THE PUBLIC, I FANCY, has not yet grasped the size of the American war program. In 1942 it calls for the spending of $47,000,000,000, which is greater than the normal total income of Britain. Next year the Americans plan to spend $80,000,000,000 on the war. This is larger than the normal annual income of the United States. It means that they must live on less themselves than at any time in modern history—far less than during the depth of the depression, but at least the little will be spread more evenly.

If Canada is to keep pace with its neighbor, we must do far more in the war and use far less goods ourselves. On the basis of these figures we haven't even begun to feel the pinch of the war yet. This reporter has been issuing unheeded warnings for a long time now but I see I have been wrong. I haven't been half black enough.

SONG OF THE NIGHT-SHIFTS

Rivets and welding. Sparks in the night.
Iron upon iron, ringing in darkness,
democracy's might.
Here at this outpost, sprayed by the ocean
Where ebb and flow at the utmost laps at Hong-kong!
The waters we build by reach to that city of hideous wrong:
Stretch on to Java and roll to Malay
Where comrades together
All creeds and friend nations so bitterly pay
The cost of our weakness,
The cost of delay.

A blessing on hammers that strike in the night
Where the workers are taking their share in the fight.
Clatter of riveting guns in the dark;
Rivet the nations united for freedom;
Solid and strongly, to stay till the end.
Over the sea your encouragement send.
And the shores of our neighbor,
Where the dark tide is narrow,
Throw up a glow from ship makers' light.
Labor tonight will mean victory tomorrow.
Weld on, and rivet, this is our fight!

—OLWEN RODSTROM.

We used to wonder what made the wheels go round. Now we're wondering when they're going to start rattling.

Japan's 4-fold Headache

By FLETCHER PRATT

There is a good deal of indication that the furious pace of the Pacific war will now slow down. Indeed, it already has slowed down; the current stage on both sides is one of opening up reinforcement, jockeying for position.

Japan's problem, in a strategic sense, is now quadruple:

1. She must clear Burma, break the connection between India and China if possible, remove that threat to her flank.
2. She must interrupt the line of communications between the U.S. and Australia as she has already interrupted the circle of Allied positions on its other flank, keep us from building up forces for a counter-attack in the continent down under.
3. She must beat us to the punch when weather opens up the routes along the Aleutians and through the northern Pacific.
4. She must organize her conquests to help her win the war, get the treasure-house of the Indies to produce.

The last is the heaviest task of the lot and will take the most effort. It is also the main reason for the slowing tempo of the conflict. Before any further Japanese advances can be undertaken with chances of success, Japan must not only organize the producing centres for raw materials, but also organize the bases and harbors that will be the springboards of any new movement.

In Malaya and at Singapore, where the British put up so miserable a resistance and so ill applied the scorched earth policy, this should not be difficult; hence Burma and India stand in the most immediate danger of Japanese advance.

The Dutch cleaned house fairly well, and Corregidor still holds the keys of Manila, so it will take our enemies longer to accomplish their objectives west and south. But it must be remembered that their problem is, in a practical military sense, one of distance only.

Manila is merely denied to them. It is not an active menace. The only units with which we can interrupt their lines of communication are our submarines. (These, by the way, are doing exceptionally well; the proof of it is Japanese official statement that they have sunk 50 of them, the exaggeration providing an accurate measure of Japanese annoyance.)

Thus, as fast as shipping for the transport of troops and supplies is made available to the Japanese commanders round New Guinea, they are able to launch local offensives looking toward the breaking of our lines to Australia. The first tentative step was taken with the attack on Buna in the Solomons.

THEIR PROBLEM—AND OURS

The next, in a military sense, should be to run down the chain of the remaining Solomons, hop over to Fiji, and if there is daring enough in Japanese minds, and shipping enough in their harbors, to make an effort toward New Caledonia, one of the key positions on the route. But they must always remember the possibility of an attack by us along the northern line of the Aleutians, keep some forces in that region to ward off the possibility.

This definition of the Japanese strategic problem also defines what the problem facing our forces is, what we should do to overthrow the enemy scheme. The ideal line for us to take would, of course, be a two-pronged attack, an encirclement

Britain Builds Planes
Deep Below Ground

By WM. J. HUMPHREYS
LONDON (AP) — Deep under ground, deeper than German bombs ever blasted her island sub-soil and rock, Britain is building aircraft.

In what were abandoned mines and quarries a short time ago, the invisible bombproof industry is operating on an expanding scale. A few of these secret plants already are in production, others under construction. The ministry of aircraft production warily describes the total as "several," but says "thousands" of skilled men and women are employed.

"The blitz raids gave us the idea," a ministry official explained.

We were 60 feet below the top of an isolated windswept hill, yet we were sitting comfortably in overstuffed chairs in a carpeted office.

"It is true we have had no heavy raids for a long time now, but none of these underground factories has lost its value," he added.

we watched girl clerks on the lower floor chalk new entries on large production charts. The figures gave the reader an instant picture of the plants' day-by-day output of secret parts.

Until now the transformation of these chill, dark tunnels into models of industrial architecture has been a closely guarded secret.

Trade union officials who came in doubt remained to praise the last word in installations and were sworn to secrecy. So were the few correspondents allowed to inspect one of the smaller production centres in operation and the dusty caverns of another being rushed to completion. Like an oil gusher, the latter will be starting eastward the flow of aircraft engines and frames within a few weeks.

The large site is a project of formidable dimensions requiring some 9,000 laborers to convert it. When it is finished the underground workshops will occupy an area roughly three-quarters of a mile square and 3,000,000 cubic feet of fresh air will be drawn into the workings every minute.

The factory workers, whose number can be given only as "many thousands," will go to work on four 50-passenger elevators and two escalators. Ninety feet down they will step into a pleasant blending of cosiness and safety.

The mine tunnels are already buttressed with steel and concrete. Bricks and plaster blot out the jagged mine walls. Every thing has been brightly painted.

Over all there is the soft day light effect of fluorescent tubing, used throughout for illumination. The conveniences include tiled washrooms, lockers and a canteen.

Living accommodations for thousands are provided above ground. These quarters are dispersed within a convenient radius of the mine shafts. Each unit will house 1,000 or more.

They'll Do It Every Time

There are spotless barracks for single workers, cosy cottages for couples. These are day nurseries for children, and movie and recreation halls for everybody.

How readily the vast underground galleries are adaptable to industrial use is illustrated by the number of mining engineers working with the contractors. There are only five.

In the uncompleted corridors, the scene is like a movie of a freight yard projected at high speed. Gasoline locomotives race over a crazy-quilt of tracks. They are pulling or pushing trains of dump cars to conveyor belts carrying the excavated material to the surface. Occasionally work is halted and the men take cover as the boom of dynamite charges sweeps through the noisy, dusty tunnels.

All this is in contrast to the finished factory, where production is running smoothly. "A few hundred" workers are there on two 10-hour shifts, as they will work in the larger factory. They appear happy and contented.

"I don't mind it at all," said one long-legged girl who paused to light a cigarette. The smoke eddied towards the ceiling and was whisked into the ventilation system.

"It's just as healthy as working in an open factory, I think," she said. "We are pretty short of rouge now and since I took this job I find I don't need it."

Her rosy cheeks were testimonial.

Victoria Flier
In Nazaire Raid

WITH THE R.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—Canadian airmen with the R.A.F. who dropped paratroops to raid the German radio-finder station at Bruneval, had a straight bombing job in the spectacular British invasion raid last Saturday on St. Nazaire.

In the St. Nazaire action instead of carrying paratroops the bellies of the Canadians' Whitleys were filled with bombs and the big bombers remained almost an hour over a hot target to provide a diversion while naval units crept into the U-boat base and unloaded Commando troops to engage the surprised Nazis.

Members of the R.A.F. squadron commanded by Wing-Comdr. P. C. Pickard of Bruneval fame did their job well, evidence shows, although clouds were so thick that a number of the aircraft were unable to drop their missiles which they brought home rather than risk the possibility of causing unnecessary casualties among French civilians.

Sgt. Observer R. W. Taylor, a 21-year-old Victoria, B.C., airman, and Sgt. Air Gunner Tom Catte, 20, of Toronto, were in a Whitley from which bombs were dropped.

Taylor said the clouds were so thick he could not see the sea and land operations going on below him. There was considerable anti-aircraft fire, he said, and there were thick clouds from 4,000 to 10,000 feet and "we had to go down low to bomb." He related that his aircraft remained over the target area for 50 minutes and returned without being hit.

Flt. Sgt. Harry Tice, 21-year-old Hamilton, Ont., wireless operator and air gunner, member of another Whitley crew, dismissed the raid with a brief comment and said he saw "lots of flak, and that was all."

The exciting part of his trip appeared on the way home. "We thought we were over England," he said, "and came down to 500 feet, instead we found ourselves over Cherbourg, and, boy, did we get shot up."

Other Canadians in the raid were P.O. Fred Smith of Vancouver, Flt. Sgt. Rod Heather of Toronto, both observers, and Sgt. W. D. Reynolds of Granby, Que., and Sgt. Art Shaw of Paris, Ont., rear gunners. They were on the Bruneval raid with Taylor, Catte and Tice.

Sees Resurrection
Of Christian Concerts

Rev. H. A. McLeod, pastor of the First United Church, in giving an Easter address to the Kiwanis Club Tuesday, said citizens of democracy must believe in the resurrection of peace, truth and the home after the war. These he said were the central concepts of Christian faith.

He said 73 countries do not believe in war and democratic peoples should believe in a peace facilitated by a world tribunal or League of Nations.

Truth, he said, was the first casualty of any war. During war time, many men have only the fag-ends of themselves to give to their families when they come home, he said, because they were so busy.

A. W. Trevett gave three vocal solos.

GEORGIAN CHOIR
AIDS WAR FUND

The Scottish war effort will benefit by the recital given in the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening by the Georgian Chorists, a substantial sum being handed over to the Burns Club to this end. Under the direction of Mrs. Georgina Watt, their leader, the feminine chorists presented a program noteworthy for purity of diction, excellent balance, and sensitive interpretation.

Their opening number was "Music When Soft Voices Die" (Wood) and "Robin Adair" (Fletcher). The "Land o' the Leal" (Ould), "Rantin' Rovin' Robin," "The Eeriskay Love Lilt," "A Highland Milking Song," "Annie Laurie," "Twenty Eighteen," "Lullaby" (Brahms) and "Holy Night" (Beethoven) were among the outstanding choral numbers. Mrs. Watt, Mrs. L. Meston and Mrs. G. Leggett delighted the audience with their solo numbers. "Turn Ye to Me" and "Come to the Fair" were effectively sung by the trios, Nellie Savin, C. Hardy and B. Gill, and J. Wenning, J. Leggett and M. Ratcliffe.

Gilbert Margison, guest violinist, played Scottish airs, and as an encore to his second group Schumann's lovely "Evening Song." Miss Ethel James gave admirable and adequate support at the piano throughout the program. In the unavoidable absence of Fraser Lister, Miss Joan Wenning sang the solo "Atton Water."

Dr. Wallace Gunn, on behalf of the Burns Club, warmly thanked Mrs. Watt, her choir and the assisting artists, for an evening of much pleasure and profit.

Victoria Jap Aliens
Not Leaving Yet

Victoria Japanese nationals of military age, because of conflicting orders, are not leaving today. Six weeks ago the Japanese aliens were told they would be evacuated from the protected area west of the crest of the Cascades by April 1. The order was made in Ottawa and posted here by Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Cancelling this order was that of the B.C. Security Commission which told the Japanese to stay where they were until ordered to the Vancouver manning pool.

There are only 14 or 15 Japanese aliens between the ages of 18 and 45 in Victoria and they are prepared to leave at any time. A spokesman of the Victoria Japanese who is in contact with the security commission said to lay an officer would probably be sent out this week from Vancouver to arrange the evacuation of all Japanese men, women and children. He said the move when arranged would probably be completed in 24 hours.

The spokesman said that with the completion of the registration of all Japanese property the Japanese were prepared to leave on short notice. He thought the evacuation of all Japanese might be completed this week.

War Prisoners Ask
Hometown Letters

Five Victoria men who are prisoners of war in Germany have made a request that friends in Victoria write them letters to brighten the monotonous days of prison life.

They are Lieut. Harold R. Horne, British prisoner of war 3283, 2nd Battalion Hut 10, Kriegsmarine, Germany. Sgt. Pilot Shorroch, P.O. Shorroch, P.O. John Featherstone and P.O. Ralph (Hank) Henderson.

All are at the same camp and eager to get letters from Victoria. The letters should be addressed to W. A. McAdam, Agent-General, B.C. House, Regent Street, London, England, to be forwarded.

The United States, during the second quarter of 1940, imported 28,015,210 pounds of tung oil.

AS I SEE IT...

By The Honourable J. T. Thorson
MINISTER OF NATIONAL WAR SERVICES

As I see it, no country can be more deeply concerned with the successful issue of this great conflict than Canada itself.

When the Dominion of Canada declared a state of war with the German Reich as the result of a free vote of a free Parliament, our country pledged its national honour that it would give its maximum aid in the struggle for the preservation of the rights of humanity.

We were the first nation in the New World to recognize that no nation anywhere in the world can stand alone. We cast aside all thought of isolation and entered this war as a united nation. We are proud to be associated with the gallant people of Britain and proud of our place as one of the United Nations.

Thus far Canada has been an essential and vital factor in holding the forces of liberty intact and preventing their collapse, but more is now required of us. With the courage of Russia, the tenacity of China and the entry of the great United States into the war, the British nations are no longer alone and victory can now be won, if all the United Nations stand united.

Canada will play her worthy part, for we have organized our human and material resources for a total war effort.

To achieve a total war effort we must carry forward our war objectives concurrently with a fixed determination.

What is the war programme of our people?

1. To carry on only such peacetime services and occupations as are essential to the life of the nation. We must see to it that there is no waste of manpower in non-essential activities or in the production of commodities not required for the prosecution of the war.

2. To produce ships, planes, tanks, guns and other essential munitions and materials of war, equipment and supplies to the fullest extent of our capacity. We have a two-fold duty in this field. Not only must we equip our own armed forces as strongly as possible, but we must produce in ever-increasing quantities for the United Nations. Our factories have sent munitions of war to every battle front in the world. This must go on and be increased. Over 600,000 persons are now engaged in the production of munitions of war. Fully 100,000 more will be required. We must mobilize our men and our women for this purpose.

3. To produce as much in the way of essential food supplies as can be transported overseas. Canada is the storehouse of the United Nations. Manpower must be allocated for the purpose of food production, so that Canada shall not fail in her commitments in that regard.

4. To raise and equip as strong armed forces as it is possible for us to do, army, navy and air, both as to quantity and quality of personnel and as to the effectiveness of their defensive and striking power both for the defence of Canada and to meet and defeat the enemy wherever he may be found. We have over 400,000 men enlisted for active service anywhere in the world—all are volunteers. When present plans are completed, we shall have over 600,000 enlistments. The Canadian Overseas Army, consisting of two army corps, will then be the strongest fighting unit in the British nations. Our Navy and our merchant seamen valiantly keep the bridge open between the new world and the old. More sailors and more ships must be supplied. Our airmen by the thousands now fight the daily and nightly battle of the skies on many fronts. One-third to one-half of the airmen of the British nations will be trained in Canada.

The attainment of each of these objectives is essential to a total war effort by our country—to achieve them every person should serve in that field of war activity where he or she can most effectively further the total war effort, for it is the totality of the war effort that counts.

Our National Selective Service system must be in aid of these objectives. We must make the best use of our manpower and womanpower. Our approach to the problem should be realistic and practical. We must not permit ourselves to be diverted from our objectives by controversies over methods. The attainment of the objective and not the means is the thing that counts.

Canada must hold herself steady and united in her determination to redeem her national pledge of maximum war effort.

Every Canadian man and woman must answer to the call of duty, for this is our war. This is the war of the Canadian people. Canada has never in her history failed to respond to the call of duty. It must not be said of her, after this conflict is over, that she entered this war as a free nation but failed in her national duty—that she promised her utmost aid but did not give it.

As I see it, every individual Canadian, whether of British or French or other origin, has the national honour of Canada in his or her charge.

Gallup Poll

Vast Fund of Canadian Manpower Anxious for War Work, Backs Ottawa

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO — Today may be April Fool's Day, but the Canadian public is not fooling about its readiness to make drastic changes in its mode of living to help the war effort.

On the eve of launching the most sweeping plan in the nation's history for harnessing Canadian manpower to the Canadian war machine, the public has been tested, and found willing to roll up its sleeves and pitch in.

The test, made by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll) just before the details of the National Selective Service Plan were announced from Ottawa, shows how Canadians view the plan in general, and also, how they would react, personally, if the government came to them, and asked them to change their jobs for one more directly connected with the war effort.

To find the answer to this last question, the survey was confined to working people, whose jobs are not directly connected with the war, and to housewives. Because farmers, who make up nearly a third of the population of Canada, may honestly claim to be working for the war effort by raising food, they are shown separately, but are included in the total figure. Member of the armed forces, or persons whose work was already connected with the war effort, were excluded from the survey.

HERE IS THE QUESTION

Nonwar workers, farmers and housewives, then, were asked this question: "If you were offered a job that you could do in some war industry, would you be willing to leave what you are now doing and take the job?"

The "national vote" in the table below is the total of the two groups following it:

	Yes	No	Undecided
National vote	48%	37%	15%
Nonwar workers and housewives	53	36	11
Farmers	36	45	19

Supposing this switching of jobs from nonwar to war meant moving to another locality? The answer is that over a third of the Canadian population would still be willing, as shown below:

	Yes	No	Undecided
National vote	34%	47%	19%
Nonwar workers and housewives	37	48	15
Farmers	30	49	21

A goodly number of Canadians would be able and willing to change to a war industry even if it meant working for less money than they are now making. To this poster, the following were expressed:

	Yes	No	Undecided
National vote	26%	54%	20%
Nonwar workers and housewives	28	57	15
Farmers	21	58	21

Over half the men interviewed were willing to change jobs to a war industry, and only about four out of every 10 women. Many housewives would not be in a position to leave young children for work in a war plant, which probably accounts for the difference in the results.

AHEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT

In its recently announced selective policy, the government has

If you were offered a job that you could do in some war industry, would you be willing to leave what you are now doing and take the job?

Would you be willing to do this if it meant moving to another locality?

Would you be willing to do this if it meant less money than you are now making?

stated through the Prime Minister that the plan is designed to obtain from every Canadian his or her maximum contribution to the war effort largely through application of the "negative compulsion of restriction."

The majority of the Canadian public, the latest Gallup survey shows, would have the government go even further than this, and implement the powers it has to compel citizens to do their part in the war effort.

To a cross-section made up of representatives of all the voting population—war workers, non-war workers, farmers, housewives, employers, etc.—this question was put:

"Should the government tell each citizen what to do as his or her part in the war effort, and require him or her to do it?"

The same question was recently asked by the American Institute of Public Opinion in the United States. Here are the comparative results:

	Yes	No	Undecided
Canada	59%	33%	8%
U.S.A.	61	32	7

Such a step would be most popular in British Columbia, and would receive a majority approval in every province except in Quebec, the survey indicates. The wide difference of opinion can be seen from taking the two most populated provinces, Ontario and Quebec, whose replies were as follows:

	Yes	No	Undecided
Quebec	35%	55%	10%
Ontario	68	25	7

Here again, men would be slightly more in favor than women, as the table following shows:

	Yes	No	Undecided
Men	61%	31%	8%
Women	58	35	7

Mother and Newborn Babe Rescued By U.S. Navy

NEW YORK (AP)—A mother and her prematurely-born baby have been rescued by the United States Navy—presumably after surviving nearly three days in an open lifeboat on the cold north Atlantic.

The story began last Sunday in the office of Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commander of the eastern sea frontier.

The admiral was preparing to go home for lunch when a confidential message was handed him, announcing that another merchant ship had been torpedoed off the Atlantic coast.

Admiral Andrews made certain that pre-arranged rescue plans had been carried out and then again started to leave.

A second message arrived. This was not a routine rescue job, he informed his staff.

PREMATURELY BORN

An expectant mother aboard the torpedoed vessel had given birth to her baby, apparently prematurely when the Axis explosives crashed into the merchantman.

The admiral ordered out rescue craft and planes of all kinds. Vessels not scheduled for duty for days were dispatched with orders to effect a rescue with the greatest possible speed.

Throughout the day the admiral and his staff awaited word of a rescue. Monday passed without word.

Early Tuesday, however, a navy lieutenant telephoned Andrews, got him out of bed and reported:

"Sir, one of our warships has picked up a lifeboat with that mother and baby."

Mr. Hamie Sibbald was best man, and ushers were Mr. D. Logan and Mr. R. Harrison.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Logan, Grange Road, where the bride and groom welcomed their guests underneath a large white bell. A three-tier wedding cake centred the table, which was decorated with daffodils and tall white candles in silver holders.

For her honeymoon trip to the mainland, the bride changed to a navy blue ensemble with yellow accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sibbald will live on Vindict Road, Saanich.

Famous Artist's Picture to Aid Airplane Fund

A watercolor by a famous British artist, W. Russell Flint, has been donated by him to the war effort of Canada. It will be shown in Victoria under the auspices of the I.O.D.E. and will be on view at the Hudson's Bay Company store, starting tomorrow, in the care of Mrs. Wm. Ellis and Mrs. P. E. Corby.

The I.O.D.E. will conduct a huge drawing, and tickets on the picture will be sold all over the province. This energetic group of women have raised at least $250,000 for aircraft. Chapters within British Columbia undertook to raise within the year $20,000 for a Spitfire. Of this sum $14,000 is already to hand, and the order plans to use the money from the W. Russell Flint picture to complete the purchase. "Secret Lagoon" is the title of the picture, which is based on a backwater of Chichester Channel, Sussex. W. Russell Flint is considered England's leading watercolor artist of modern times and one of the outstanding exponents of this medium in the world. He is a member of the Royal Academy, president of the Royal Watercolor Society and a member of the Society of Royal Etchers. His inscription in his own handwriting is on the back of the picture as follows: "Presented by the artist to the war effort of Canada."

The picture was first sent to Canada House, London, where

Love Still Blooms For Japanese

War cannot barricade the road to romance. Young Japanese boys and girls facing the estrangement of ultimate deportation, still feel the pangs of true love, even under the restrictions of curfews.

This morning a Japanese youth entered the Times office and blushing asked that his engagement be announced. His name was Isami (for Sam) Okamoto, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Okamoto of Victoria, and his bride-to-be is Tatsuye, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Mitani Sr., of Haney, B.C.

They plan to be married Saturday in the bride's home at Haney by Rev. A. J. L. Haynes of Maple Ridge Baptist Church.

It will be a quiet wedding, no frills or fuss, but war's dark clouds cannot blight romance entirely.

ST. ANDREW'S
Rev. H. Andrews, naval chaplain, gave a talk. A treasure hunt was held, the treasure, a radio lamp, being found by Miss Isabel Stewart, treasurer, whose marriage will take place to Staff Sergeant Gordon Winter, education convenor, Saturday. Miss R. Blyth of Esquimalt House has been presented with a cheque representing the money made at the St. Patrick's Social held by the society.

W.A. to the R.C.O.C. will hold a dance Thursday night at the Fraser Street Hall, Esquimalt, from 9 till 1, in aid of the Sports Fund of the R.C.O.C.

The Saanich Good Will Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, at the rooms, 585 Boleskine Road.

Victoria Leads in Gifts To Little Hampshire Town

Victoria has done more for the Hampshire clothing branch of the Soldiers', Sailors' and Air-men's Families' Association than any other part of the British Empire or the United States!

This tribute brought pride to a little group of 10 elderly Victoria women who call themselves the North Quadra Knitting Circle, and who for the last two years have been plying busy needles for the bombed-out people of Britain. Mrs. D. Crawford of 3246 Linwood Avenue heads the circle which meets every Friday evening, and to her was directed the letter of thanks, containing the tribute above, and written by Miss Katherine Stapleton of Yateley Hill, Hampshire. The parcels were sent to England through the Overseas League. Miss Stapleton writes in part:

WARRIED ABOUT US
"When the Japanese declared war—or to be more exact, followed German methods—our first thought was for all of you in Victoria, who are our most loyal and generous friends."

"I spent three nights in London just before the fall of Singapore. Everyone looked so anxious; they were standing about in the streets, gazing at the posters, and waiting for fresh papers to arrive. For the last fortnight or so, the news has been disappointing, but we must be patient, and trustful, and not allow ourselves to become downhearted."

VICTORIA FIRST
"Ever since Christmas the weather has been very severe, and we have never been free from ice and snow. That is unusual here. It has resulted in an increase in the already overwhelming applications for warm clothing and blankets, which has made us busy. Thanks very largely to the people of Victoria, we have not refused a single eligible case. Isn't it splendid to be able to say that?"

"And it is true that Victoria has done more for the Hampshire Clothing Branch, than any other part of the British Empire, or the U.S.A. Perhaps many of us did not think very much about Canada before the war, but now we are all proud that we are your friends, and grateful—beyond words, for your ready aid."

"Sometimes I help at a canteen for Canadian soldiers, and many of them are stationed in the south of England. We all regret that it is so difficult to entertain them and to offer them hospitality, for our meagre rations are scarcely sufficient for ourselves and unwarmed food is hard to buy. We wish we could do something to show our appreciation and offer them a home. We wish they could see England at her best and share the enjoyments of happier days."

HAS FRIENDS HERE
"I was so interested to hear that one of your workers knows Yateley; and I have three friends in Victoria. It must be a beautiful place and a nice climate."

"We hope that war may not make much difference to your lives, and that though nearer, you may live in peace and may be spared the anxieties and sorrow which many of us have to bear."

"It is sad to see a prosperous country like ours getting poor so quickly. We look downy, our houses shabby, our flower gardens neglected, for we must concentrate on vegetables and food production. But it is only for a time, and we shall win through to victory, with the help of our many loyal friends overseas."

"Thank you, and please pass on the thanks of us all to your work party."

RAISE OWN FUND
Mrs. Crawford and her North Quadra Knitting Circle contribute 10 cents each per week for the purchase of wool. Now that wool is getting dearer they would be grateful for any donations of wool for the carrying on of their work, and can use any color or kind.

different kind of gauges and he checks them to various degrees of accuracy. He also does such miscellaneous tasks as preparing technical reports.

When the job is broken down, however, the employer can see that some of it could be done by girls with a high school education in mathematics. After three to six months of special training.

In this way many essential men employees could be released. Or the work turned out by one irreplaceable employee could be greatly increased.

Such detailed occupational breakdown studies of critical jobs in which the shortage of manpower (or woman power) is now holding up war production are now being pushed forward by wartime employment services. Jobs of tool and die-making and critical occupations in the ship-building industry are being given first priority. Eight such studies are now in process and will be ready for use very soon. More will follow at top speed.

W.I. Drama Group Present Program

In an entertaining program given on Monday afternoon the Victoria Women's Institute drama group gave a fine presentation of their accomplishments. The main feature was the comedy, "Two Tables of Bridge," by Lucy Kennedy Brown, and produced by Mrs. Stella Blair. The play tells the story of a young bride's difficulties in entertaining the fashionable older women of the town at two tables of bridge and has rather a surprising ending. The players were Mesdames T. Hopley, G. Upward, Geo. Bowers, D. Brown, T. Saddler, V. Springford, D. English, J. Edwards and A. Waite. Mrs. F. W. Bridge was stage manager and Mrs. J. C. Culross, prompter.

Miss Jean Kerr contributed two songs, and her clever dances were much applauded. Her accompanist was Mrs. J. Edwards.

Mrs. J. Chappel's clever monologue caused much merriment, and Mrs. T. Hopley's comedy songs in character appealed greatly to the audience. At the close of the program afternoon tea was served by Mrs. W. Jackson, assisted by her committee. In tendering appreciation to the artists, Mrs. Clifford Johns, president of the institute, thanked those present for their support.

The ritual of jewels test was taken by the pledges of the Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Society Monday evening at the home of the director, Mrs. T. Hammond, 2717 Avebury Street. In lieu of the test, the business period was dispensed with, but the cultural program was held and Miss Helen Porter conducted the topic, "The Test of Expression."

Maurice Kersey attended the meeting and made recordings of the speaking ability of several of the members. The recordings were immediately played back, and the speaker was able to hear and criticize her own voice as others heard it. The next meeting will be held on April 9, at which time the results of the test will be announced.

Oak Bay Golf Club Spring Opening

Divots and feminine chit-chat flew indiscriminately at the annual spring opening of the Victoria Golf Club, about 50 of the lady members gathering at the clubhouse for an attractively arranged luncheon to launch the summer golfing season.

Competitions were held during the afternoon, Mrs. Jack Todd and Mrs. Arthur Nash winning the ladies' foursome, with Mrs. H. B. Combe and Mrs. J. A. Turner coming second. The gay chintz lounges and dining-room were filled with bowls of daffodils and spring greenery and non-playing guests enjoyed bridge and mah jong, remaining for tea, which was served later in the afternoon. Mrs. Hew Paterson, ladies' captain; Miss E. Benson, vice-captain, and Mrs. L. O. Howard, secretary, with others on the committee in charge of arrangements, welcomed the guests and sat at the head of the U shaped table.

Among others present were Mesdames W. B. Leach, G. H. Simons, W. N. Sheffield, Walter Parry, B. R. Philbrick, John Macdonald, A. S. G. Musgrave, J. Pheasant, E. E. Watson, G. S. Ford, G. C. First Jap Group At Schreiber

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bound for Ontario, a party of Japanese from the Pacific coast went through Winnipeg Tuesday night. They will be placed in camps at Schreiber, 125 miles east of Port Arthur.

Camps have been prepared for their arrival and it is expected the men, most of them in their twenties, will be placed at road work.

A spokesman for the party, which numbered 132 men, said the Japanese being moved from vital defence zones in British Columbia had "no grievance" with the Dominion government.

"We realize circumstances over which neither the government nor we had any control forced the move," said T. Nishijima, New Westminster.

"You must remember we are Canadians. We were all born in Canada, and we feel that our loyalties belong to this country."

Most of the men were mill hands or fishermen at the coast, and Nishijima said: "We will do whatever is assigned to us."

They were under guard of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment.

"We like the Mounties," said Norman Watanabe of Vancouver. "They have been very nice to us."

TO TOTAL 3,000

OTTAWA (CP)—An estimated 3,000 Japanese from British Columbia will be moved to work camps in Northern Ontario in the near future to work on the Trans-Canada Highway, officials said today.

The party of 132 Japanese men which passed through Winnipeg is the initial movement. The 3,000 will be spread out between Schreiber to White River.

OBSERVANT VISITOR

I was disgusted to see displays of Easter baskets made in Japan filled with candles in the windows of Douglas Street stores whilst window shopping today. These are tactfully wrapped in cellophane. Is this to fool the public or perhaps they were sent from Japan in exchange for the scrap metal, logs, etc., you sent over there.

OUR MONEY SYSTEM

In his letter in your issue of March 26, Mr. Adam admits that the present financial system has many faults to be remedied. Social Crediters will heartily agree with him in that and have offered constructive suggestions for the necessary remedies.

If these suggestions are faulty, as Mr. Adam insinuates, will he deal with them in detail if he can or produce something better for public discussion?

These suggestions may be stated basically as follows:

1. The control and issue of all money and credit shall be taken from private hands and vested in the government.
2. That the amount of money in circulation shall be managed so that it shall equal the total prices of consumer goods and services available during a given time—in order to stabilize the value of the money within the national boundaries and prevent booms, depressions, inflation and deflation.

G. H. PETHICK.
East Saanich Road/Royal Oak

MR. DEAN COMPLAINS

"Consistency thou art a jewel" especially when applied to municipal management, and especially to taxation, and particularly to a raw political outrage perpetrated by the City Council of Victoria.

Briefly, a lot and building numbered 542, 544, 546 Herald Street, formerly owned by the undersigned when assessed for $23,000, has just been sold by the city who had confiscated it for nonpayment of taxes, when assessed for $23,000, has recently been sold by the city for less than $6,000. It was offered to me on August 9, 1937, for $6,000 subject to 5 per cent discount for cash, by Land Commissioner Kirkpatrick Crockett. Is there any consistency in such transactions?

A few days ago indubitable evidence was furnished the city that the doctrine of single tax on land and the exemption of 35 per cent of the value of improvements is a positive delusion coming from two most able administrators—thousands of miles apart, one in Pasadena, Calif., and the other in Calgary, Alta. This city's actual experience with reverted property for years is sufficient evidence.

Surely war troubles are enough without freak political interference of any kind.

JOHN DEAN.
March 28, 1942.

YOUR MOVE, ALDERMAN

I see that Alderman Gadsden wants vacant lots cultivated. As the alderman is an experienced farmer I think the best plan would be to put all the lots in his charge and work them as a city enterprise, keeping strict account of all expenses. He could get it done at much less cost than a number of individuals scattered around, and it would be much easier for him to get water on them and give them a much better chance of success.

Some years ago the owner of the lot next to mine who had been living back east came and wanted to sell the lot, but as he could find no one to buy, he wanted someone to cultivate it and to pay the taxes; he made me that offer. I had the experience of my own lot. I had got it in good order, but it took me seven years to do it and a great amount of work and expense. He told me that anybody could see that it was good rich land. Well, I was not the anybody and told him that if I was going to cultivate it, the first thing I would want on it would be 20 loads of manure.

He did not get anyone to accept his offer, so he thought he would show us how to do it and what could be made out of it. So he had it plowed and harrowed, and then planted it with small potatoes, small ones that he told me cost $3 per sack. He came sometimes and did a little hoeing, and when the time for digging came, he should have had three tons or more of potatoes. But he did not need a truck to haul them away, not even a wheelbarrow; he came once or twice a week and took about 20 to 25 pounds away on his shoulder in a sack, and I think most of them were smaller than those he put in.

If the alderman can show the inexperienced how to avoid the like of that it would be a good thing, and some data might be got that would be of value in time to come.

ALFRED WIGGS.

"THE BOOK OF DANIEL"

In Friday evening's paper Mr. Sanders very easily disposes of his opponents, to his own satisfaction; but his arguments rather remind me of the dear old lady who, seeing her newly-recruited grandson march past in his company, proudly exclaims, "Look, they are all out of step except my Johnny." As I wrote before, the bare denial of the other fellow's argument does not satisfy anyone who takes the trouble to think and read for himself.

In the first place, Mr. Sanders misquotes Daniel 5:30-31, which does not say that Belshazzar was slain in Babylon by Darius the Median; but that Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans was slain. And that "Darius the Median took the kingdom." I venture to suggest that Darius the Median was co-regent or sub-king until Cyrus' death.

Again, if Mr. Sanders will refer to the marginal notes in the A.V. of the Bible he will find that King Nebuchadnezzar was Belshazzar's grandfather, or, as Ferrar Fenton translates the passage (Dan. 5:11), "King Nebuchadnezzar your ancestor."

In order to show that there are some "competent historians" who do not agree with Mr. Sanders, may I quote the following passages by Sir Frederic Kenyon, formerly director and principal librarian of the British Museum, etc., in his latest book, "The Bible and Archaeology." "In respect of that part of the Old Testament against which the disintegrating criticism... was chiefly directed, the evidence of archaeology has been to re-establish its authority." (Page 279.) And on page 286, he says: "It is a besetting sin of much 'advanced' criticism to form a theory first and then to declare spurious any evidence that does not agree with it." I could quote a great many more scholars who do not agree at all with Mr. Sanders, but do not wish to take up too much of your valuable space.

DIP INTO HISTORY

May I congratulate you on publishing Mr. James Morton's extremely timely article on Russia.

Mr. Morton is, however, mistaken in attributing to Pritt the statement that "... at the end of the last war the Russians were driven out of Finland by the joint German and Finnish forces under Generals Gollantz and Mannerheim."

Soviet Russia (on Stalin's proposal) recognized Finnish independence on Jan. 4, 1918, and had withdrawn its troops by the second week in March. Mannerheim began his offensive against the Socialist government of Finland about a week later.

Mainly by the aid of a German composite division of 12,000 men under General Count von der Goltz (not Gollantz), the Socialist government was overthrown by May, 1918, six months before "the end of the war."

Mannerheim's atrocities, therefore, were not perpetrated on Russians, but on Finns, at least 15,000 of whom, men, women and children, were slaughtered out of hand. Some 15,000 to 24,000 more prisoners "died in four months, not merely from starvation, they were even deprived of water." (Col. Wedgwood, M.P.)

For confirmation of the above statements, see Ency. Brit. (13th ed.), the Manchester Guardian, July 5, 1918, The Times (Lond.), Feb. 11, 1919, Col. Wedgwood's speech in the British Commons, May 29, 1919, and his letter to the News-Chronicle (Lond.), Dec. 17, 1939, and "Must the War Spread," by D. N. Pritt, K.C., M.P.

CITIZENS' DEFENCE CORPS

The formation of a Citizens' Auxiliary Defence Corps in Saanich appears to me to be such a desirable and obvious thing to have done, that I am moved to ask whether other such formations cannot be immediately organized in Victoria City, Oak Bay, etc.

I have discussed this matter with several ex-service men, who, like myself, are unable to join a unit of the Reserve Army, and yet are willing and anxious to give up what time is necessary to fit themselves, purely on a voluntary basis, for any emergency that may arise.

All we ask is that each unit of U.S. LENDS A HAND ON ALASKA HIGHWAY—This is a United States army wrecking crew giving aid to a Canadian civilian truck after a mishap on the new Alaska defence highway. the Auxiliary Defence Corps be recognized by the army authorities, and that we in due course receive equipment to enable us to be of some use in defending our homes and the particular district where we live.

I feel sure that if such an organization could be got under way now, the response from ex-service men and others would be tremendous. The point is, what steps are necessary to get such an organization started?

Speaking for Oak Bay, I will gladly make myself responsible for receiving names of any man who is willing to join an Auxiliary Defence Corps, organized along the same lines as the Saanich unit, it being clearly understood that those who are able, and who undoubtedly should, join the reserve or active army, would not be accepted in the Auxiliary Defence Corps.

Once having received sufficient names, a meeting could then be called, and the necessary steps taken to organize along the same lines as the Saanich unit, from whom we no doubt could get much advice and help.

Please send names by post only to my office address at 709 Johnson Street with any suggestions that may be helpful.

Shorter Easter For Civil Servants

For the first time in years provincial civil servants will not get nearly a week's holiday over the Easter period.

Usually government workers have left their offices Thursday evening until Tuesday morning. This year they will get Friday and Monday only, in addition to Sunday. They must be at work Saturday morning.

Government officials think the usual long holiday would be a bad example to workers in war industries, who will have a minimum of free time over the week-end.

Closing Approved

The provincial government, by order-in-council, has approved Victoria City's by-law closing Oriental Alley, running between Yates and Johnson Streets and vesting portions of it in names of persons owning property there.

Also by order-in-council the government has approved Esquimalt's "Sewer Construction and Rental Tax Amendment by-law, 1942."

This white flour keeps in the VITAMIN B COMPLEX including at least 400 International Units of Vitamin B₁ (thiamin) per pound

NUTRITIONISTS warn us to make sure we get enough of the B vitamins in our daily intake of food.

But from what foods? We know, for example, that the whole wheat kernel is rich in the vitamin B complex—yet in white "patent" flour most of these important B vitamins are removed. Many other "refined" foods, likewise, are deficient in the vitamins that the whole raw foods possess.

But now, at last, there is a white flour that brings you a good amount of these B vitamins. It is a new kind of white flour, Vitamin B Kitchen Craft Flour, which has most of the vitamin-rich wheat germ kept in.

Vitamin B Kitchen Craft White Flour provides you more thiamin (vitamin B₁) more riboflavin, more of all the members of the vitamin B complex so highly concentrated in the wheat germ. How much more is shown by its content of not less than 400 International Units of B₁ (thiamin) per pound. This is about five times the amount of B₁ in regular white "patent" flour.

Remember, these are not vitamins mixed into the flour. They are the unremoved vitamin B complex natural to whole sun-ripened grain.

Because of the wheat germ, this white flour has an appetizing wheaty flavor that makes breads and cakes tastier than ever. You'll find, too, that Vitamin B Kitchen Craft Flour is not the "chalk" white of "patent" flour, but a richer, creamier-type white.

Vitamin B Kitchen Craft White Flour requires no change in your recipes. It is as fine a white flour as money can produce, milled in Canada from plump Canadian wheat, specially for all-purpose home-type baking (which is quite different from commercial baking).

Guaranteed to give you fine results always—and to keep at least two years under normal storage conditions.

But what a difference in vitamin content! Vitamin B Kitchen Craft White Flour holds about five times as much vitamin B₁ as does regular white flour!

JOHNS-MANVILLE

Her Dream Comes True—Hubby's, Too!

All her life, Mrs. B. cherished a vision... a vision of the dream-home she always longed for—modern to live in, yet charming and lovely to the eye as the fine old homes of Cape Cod and Virginia. But always her husband put his foot down. "We can't afford to build again," he used to say. And then they discovered Johns-Manville Cedar-grain Asbestos Siding Shingles!

It was love at first sight with Mrs. B.—and cheers from hubby. For modern, made-in-Canada "Cedargrains" match the grain and beauty of old, weathered wood shingles. They can be nailed right over the old side walls of many existing houses—and their attractive Blended Grey color makes old homes look brand new, much more spacious and beautiful. Made of asbestos, J.M. "Cedargrains" can't burn or rot. They never need painting to preserve them—and they cost no more than ordinary siding materials! For free literature on this remarkable new kind of shingles, phone your Johns-Manville dealer, V.I. Hardwood Floor Company, 707 Johnson Street, G7314.

OTTAWA (CP)—George B. Foster of Montreal has been re-elected president of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

Two new members, Group Capt. H. P. Crabb, R.C.A.F., Ottawa, and D. A. Ross, Calgary, were elected to the national board.

New league vice-presidents are A. W. Carter, Vancouver; W. T. White, Halifax, and D. R. MacLaren, Winnipeg.

New officers include R. H. B. Ker, Victoria, an executive member.

Delegates attending included W. G. Brandreth of Vancouver and H. R. Carson of Calgary.

It was decided the league should concentrate mainly on enrolling boys of 15 to 18 years and only take boys under 15 as juniors in special cases.

Mayhew Essay Prizes Awarded

OTTAWA (CP)—Winners of a contest conducted in Canadian universities for the best essays in English and French on post-war reconstruction policies in Canada have been announced.

First prizes of $200 each were won by Irving Brecher, McGill University, Montreal, in the English section, and Charles Coulombe, faculty of commerce, University of Montreal, in the French section.

The contest was sponsored by the Reconstruction Committee, of which Hon. Ian Mackenzie is chairman and which deals with questions of demobilization, rehabilitation and postwar reconstruction.

MAYHEW SUGGESTION

The contest was suggested by Robert W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, B.C., who provided $700 for the cash prizes. It was open to all men and women students regularly enrolled for a first degree in any college or university in Canada.

Second and third prizes in the English contest were divided equally among four students: Carl E. Abner, M. W. Farrell, and Clifford C. V. Pitt, all of Queen's University, each of whom receives a cash award of $37.50.

Second prize in the French contest was awarded to J. Andre Legendre, University of Montreal, while third prize went to Jean Marie Roy, Laval University. They receive cash awards of $100 and $75 respectively.

B.C. MENTION

Honorable mention in the English contest was given to R. Gordon Ross, University of British Columbia, and E. G. Ramsden, University of Toronto, while in the French contest those receiving honorable mention were Marcel Blais, University of Montreal; Henry Cote, Laval University, and H. Seguin, University of Toronto.

Canada's tobacco crop totals about 54,094,000 pounds.

Oak Bay Wardens

Can Make School A.R.P. Hospital

Oak Bay wardens and A.R.P. medical staff Tuesday night demonstrated to the public how, in 13 minutes from the sounding of the siren, they can convert the basement of the Willows School into an auxiliary hospital complete in every detail from maternity bundles to a blood bank.

Seven wardens, members of the municipal works department, upon the sounding of the warning, proceeded from their nearby homes to the school. They have keys and know every nook and cranny of the school.

Working under blackout conditions, they quickly applied plywood shades to the 40-odd basement windows, erected collapsible tables, brought from store rooms stoves, water tanks, medical equipment, drugs and instruments. In 13 minutes the former school basement was a blacked out hospital ready for doctors, nurses and patients.

Coal oil stoves and gasoline lanterns have been provided to heat and light the auxiliary hospital should the power fail. Auxiliary water tanks will be filled as soon as the alert is sounded so water will be available should the supply be cut off.

SECRET TELEPHONE

To keep in touch with A.R.P. headquarters and other centres, a telephone, with a number known only to officials of the A.R.P., has been installed.

Equipment is available for the serving of coffee and stimulants to victims and A.R.P. workers.

In time of emergency the Willows and a similar auxiliary hospital at the Monterey School will be fed from six first aid posts in Oak Bay homes. Patients will be brought to the hospitals by 11 delivery trucks which can be converted in half a minute into ambulances. Each truck driver has orders to proceed to a specified base as soon as the alert is sounded.

Although designed as an auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, an operation could be performed at either of the two auxiliary hospitals. On hand at the hospitals are bandages, sterilizers, medicines, anesthetics, splints and blood plasma for transfusions.

Dr. W. P. Walker, municipal health officer, is supervisor of the A.R.P. military organization. Dr. Denton Holmes has charge of the Willows and Dr. E. L. McIven the Monterey auxiliary hospital.

EXPERIENCED OFFICERS

Mrs. Sidney Cave is the registered nurse in charge of the Oak Bay A.R.P. nursing service. She and each doctor had ambulance experience overseas in the last war. Mrs. Cave was in charge of base hospitals at Malta and Cyprus.

Mrs. G. N. Duncan was in charge of the nursing staff at the Willows auxiliary hospital Tuesday night in the absence of Mrs. Douglas Hunter. Each auxiliary hospital has a staff of trained nurses.

Assisting the doctors and nurses are first aid workers of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. At the present time the Oak Bay A.R.P. organization needs stretcher bearers with first aid knowledge. They have been hard to recruit, for most men with first aid experience, physically fit for stretcher bearing work, are in the army.

W. R. Gibbs of the St. John Ambulance Brigade said he had secured permission from the provincial superintendent to form a St. John Ambulance division in Oak Bay to assist with A.R.P. work.

The B.C. government, by order-in-council, has appointed Fred H. LeCouteur, Donovan Allen, James T. Armstrong and John P. McBeath to the insurance board of British Columbia for a year, starting April 1.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH RECENT spring weather to remind folks summer is just around the corner British Columbia followers of horse racing, and they number in the thousands, are wondering what the coming season holds forth. There has been much talk back and forth over plans for the Victoria and Vancouver tracks but nothing definite has been announced. The lads and lassies who love to make the odd wager on their favorite bangtail have been anxiously awaiting the official announcement of the Victoria and Vancouver racing dates. Only man who knows the answer, Sam Randall, president of the Vancouver Thoroughbred Association Ltd., has refused to break his silence.

In former years racing has always opened in Vancouver Dominion Day week and continued through to Labor Day with the gee-gees shuttling between Lansdowne, Brighouse and Hastings. Victoria's 14-day meeting has always opened up a week after the close on the mainland with the first seven days coinciding with the annual fall fair at the Willows. We have heard various reports regarding the mainland tracks. Some say the three plants will operate as usual; while others claim the races will be confined to one track—Hastings Park.

It seems pretty definite Victoria's regular meeting will go on as usual. Present set-up calls for the meeting to get started on Sept. 12 and run through to Sept. 28. At least that is the latest information given us. There seems to be no worry about horses, the promoters figuring there will be plenty of thoroughbreds available to fill seven races a day.

Definite racing dates have been set for the prairie circuit, and in talking to Ken Darbyshire, well-known local trainer, Monday, he informed us he would leave soon to campaign on the prairie tracks. He will take along five or six horses, all Victoria owned. Jockey Walter Beard will handle the riding duties. Beard arrived in town a few days ago and is a busy chap working the horses into condition. Little Bobby Summers, who spent the winter in Victoria as an employee at the new arena, left the city last week-end en route to his home in Winnipeg, and will resume his riding when the first prairie meeting gets started. Summers kept in good condition during the winter months playing hockey for the Duroid Raiders.

John Kiernan of sport and information Please fans, comments as follows on Joe Louis' latest fight against Abe Simon: "The all-out war has some striking repercussions in the field of sports. A heavyweight boxing champion of the world came out of the ranks of the last war. A heavyweight boxing champion of the world went into the ranks in this war. Gene Tunney and Joe Louis, in that order. Now the heavyweight champion of the world, a soldier, has stepped out of ranks for a few hours to defend his boxing crown. That's a world's record for boxing. It's the war that caused Joe Louis to set another striking record, too. He was the first heavyweight champion to fight in defence of his title and take no money for his efforts. It will be remembered that Joe gave his end of the gate receipts for his bout with Buddy Baer to the Navy Relief Society. In his bout with Abe Simon the champion was punching for the benefit of the Army Emergency Relief Fund.

"Jack Dempsey set a record for bringing in gate receipts at boxing shows. Joe Louis already has set a record for giving them away. And where they will do most good, too."

Baseball Opening Thursday

Coast League Starts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Optimistic under a cloud of wartime restrictions, the Pacific Coast League opens its 1942 baseball campaign tomorrow, the first loop in the country to get under way.

The army has okayed night games for the time being in this military area, providing certain precautions are taken, but it was expected the limitation of crowds to 5,000 would stand, with some exceptions possible. The army can call off games at any time without notice.

Thus, like all other leagues and in all other sports, the progress of the war will determine the fate of the Coast League.

On the face of things the Seattle Rainiers, champions of the last three years, the always-threatening Sacramento Senators and a completely reorganized Los Angeles club appear the big three of the loop.

Los Angeles finished seventh last year but has a wealth of new talent and more available from the parent Chicago Cubs. Seattle lost a great defensive outfielder in Bill Lawrence, and three other good players are gone, but the Rainiers boast a sturdy, well-balanced club rich in pitching strength. Sacramento has even better pitchers, and one of the most fiery managers in the circuit, "Pepper" Martin.

PAUL THOMPSON SIGNED
CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Thompson will be manager of Chicago Black Hawks for the fourth successive season when the National Hockey League's 1942-43 season gets under way next November. Thompson reached an agreement with owner Major Frederick McLaughlin Tuesday before leaving for his home at Vancouver, B.C.

LOS ANGELES — Jackie Wilson, 140½, Los Angeles, knocked out Pedro Ortega, 141½, Tampico, Mexico (3).

Newsom May Yet Land in Brooklyn

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—There still is at least an outside chance that Buck Newsom—all 222 pounds of him—will be pawing the dirt of Brooklyn's Ebbets Field and "show-boatin'" as only he can for the fans of flatbush this summer. That is where big Buck should have been all these years, instead of wasting his particular talents on the more sedate parks of the American League.

If there is one thing the Washington Senators did not need it was another pitcher. But "Old Fox" Clark Griffith simply could not resist the opportunity to grab Newsom virtually on his own terms. Detroit was in a spot. It could not sign Newsom and could not get waivers on him, either from Washington or St. Louis. Buck, after a final vituperative talk with general manager Jack Zeller, had angrily stripped his belongings from his Tiger locker at Lake Land and was on his way home to Carolina—or somewhere. So Zeller had to take what he could get.

And now, if things move along logically, and no hitch develops, then should come the next move—Newsom's trade to the St. Louis Browns for a couple of players, perhaps third baseman Harland Clift and a utility infielder. The Senators are in sore need of both.

When, and if, that deal goes through, the Browns presumably will be free to sell Big Buck (the object of all this phanagling) to Brooklyn for $40,000 and a player. The Dodgers' offer made originally to Detroit, is understood still to stand.

Dominoes Leave April 11

Oppose Saskatoon

Week Saturday will find the Victoria Dominoes off in quest of another Canadian senior men's basketball championship. The British Columbia champions were Tuesday notified they must be in Saskatoon April 13 and 14 for a series against the R.C.A.F. champions of Saskatchewan.

If successful in Saskatoon the Dominoes will head for Winnipeg and a series with St. Andrews, Manitoba titleholders, scheduled for April 17, 18 and 19 if necessary.

According to information received today it is possible the Dominoes will leave for the prairies with their regular lineup. Following their smashing triumph over Vancouver Tooles in the provincial final it was announced that Norm Baker and Ritchie Nicol would be unable to travel. However, it is quite likely the two regulars will be able to go along with the club in its quest for another national championship.

Other members of the party will be Art and Chuck Chapman, Jack Mottishaw, Don Woodhouse, Dave McBeth and Alan Wright. Accompanying the team will be Bobby Van-Horne, club trainer. Manager, Dave Nicol previously announced he would not make the trip with the boys but it is possible he may also go along.

Ice Carnival Great Success

Night of Hilarity

Three thousand people literally rolled around in their seats at the Willows Arena Tuesday night as hilarious comedy was the keynote of the fair charity ice carnival. The affair, staged in joint aid of the A.R.P. and Queen Alexandra Solarium, proved a success beyond the fondest dream of the promoters, and at the conclusion everybody remarked: "It was a great show."

Highlight of the program was the broom ball game staged between the city firemen and policemen. The lads in blue really put on a show, and at the finish received a tremendous ovation for their efforts. It was funny, to say the least. Game had only just started when the fans witnessed a cold-blooded "murder" of Referee Jim Taylor by playing-manager Sam McKenzie of the A.R.P. and Queen Alexandra Solarium. Soon as the entire money has been collected the equal shares will be turned over to the two organizations.

A special number, "The White Cliffs of Dover," with the band soloist, was much appreciated. George I. Warren officiated as master of ceremonies and kept the show running in great shape with never a dull moment for the big crowd.

First of its kind staged at the new arena, the carnival was an outstanding success. Entire proceeds from the event will be turned over to the two organizations, not a cent being spent for expenses. The arena along with its staff was donated by H. B. Olson, while the entertainers, members of the C.A.T.S., who acted as ushers, and the Canadian Corps of Commissioners gave their services free.

Edmonton Grads Return to Play

EDMONTON (CP)—One of the greatest women's basketball teams in the United States—Wichita Thurston—are on their way to play a two-game exhibition series here with a picked team of former members of the famous Edmonton Grads and the Edmonton Comets.

First game of the benefit series for the "Milk For Britain" fund will be played Friday afternoon and the second Saturday night.

The Grad-Comet combination has been practicing steadily for the last two weeks under the direction of J. Percy Page, coach of the now-disbanded Grads, and Bill Douglas, the Comets coach, and although they may be a little short of having the power of the former world-champion Grads, they have looked good in practice and are expected to give the visitors plenty of opposition.

Five of the Edmonton team's members are former Grads, all well known to Alberta's basketball fans. They are: Nael MacDonald, Winnie Galloway, Margaret Patterson, Betty Bowden and Etta Dann. Members of the Comets are: Beryl Westbrook, Lois Hepner, Pat Cavanagh, Peggy Colville and Laura Strachan.

On the more serious side was the fancy skating exhibitions by Gladys and Edward Rushka and Luther Holman and Fay Chesney and the smart performance by the Victoria Girls' Drill Team under the leadership of Capt. Norman Foster.

Music for the evening was provided by the Royal Canadian Navy Band under Lieut. Cuth

Forty-five conditioned runners from the army, navy and air force will line up outside the Y.M.C.A. Good Friday morning at 10.30 to run a three-and-a-half-mile route for the Schwengers Trophy, donated by Bernie Schwengers, one of Victoria's great athletes of yesteryear.

Schwengers will start the race, which will go down Blanshard to Yates, along Yates to Douglas, from Douglas to Dallas, along Dallas to Cook, along Cook and Park Boulevard, past the football field on Heywood Avenue to Rupert Street, then to Humboldt and to Blanshard and to the finishing line at the "Y."

The winner receives the trophy, and five other prizes will be given to those immediately trailing.

All-Star Services Team Plays Clippers

A Victoria services hockey team, comprised of the pick of the players here in the navy, army and air force, will travel to Nanaimo Saturday to play Nanaimo Clippers in an exhibition game.

Lieut. W. E. Warburton, manager of the army hockey team, announced Tuesday.

Lieut. Warburton will take the team up the island. They play the western Canada intermediate champs at 9. It is hoped to have a return game between the clubs at the Willows.

Metz Scoring Hero as Leafs Beat Rangers

Two fighting National Hockey League clubs, one that came through in the pinch against brilliant opposition, and the other enjoying a red-hot winning streak, will clash in the opener of a best-of-seven series in Toronto Saturday night for the Stanley Cup and world hockey championship.

Toronto Maple Leafs won their way into the final Tuesday night at Toronto by a $50,000 last-minute goal scored by a Saskatchewan farm boy, giving them a 3 to 2 victory and four games to two on the series over New York Rangers. Their future opponents, Detroit Red Wings, ho' as firecrackers this last month and twice as effective, polished off Boston Bruins 3 to 1 at Detroit to win the best-of-three series in straight games.

In the Rangers-Leafs struggle, there was but six seconds of play remaining when Nick Metz broke away from a New York attack to fire the goal that gave the second-place Leafs their triumph over the National League champions.

Assured of at least two games in Toronto, the goal fired by Metz meant about $50,000 in gate receipts for the Leafs and much more if the series is extended.

FINE COMEBACK

Unassisted goals by rookie Johnny McCreedy in the first period and his linemate, Pete Langelie, in the second, gave the Leafs a 2 to 0 lead which they held till past the halfway mark in the final session. A New York rally brought two goals in less than two minutes by Phil Watson and Alfie Pike.

Not content to carry the game into overtime, the Rangers kept pressing and four men were down the ice when Syl Apps passed to Metz to send him on his climactic dash.

PATRICK HURT

The Rangers finished the contest with only 13 players. Lynn Patrick was boarded late in the first period and suffered a torn ligament in his right knee and was forced to the sidelines except for a brief turn in the second period. Grant Warwick suffered a twisted left knee late in the contest and also retired to the dressing-room. Lorne Carr was the only Toronto casualty, suffering a sprained right wrist.

Detroit scored its 10th straight win on its own half-ice in Joe Carveth, product of Regina amateur ranks, goes the hero's mantle. The fleet right-winger playing his first year in the big time, rapped home two goals, his second proving the clincher.

It was his first goal, a neat solo effort at 3:50 of the first period that sent Detroit ahead. Herbie Cain got this one back for Boston midway through the period. Harvey and Art Jackson set up the play.

Detroit took up from there and swarmed around the Boston cage repeatedly, but goaler

Saints Bring Revamped Squad

Victoria soccer fans will get a chance to take in a bit of football on Good Friday when St. Saviours of Vancouver meet Victoria United in a coast soccer game at Athletic Park at 3.

The Victoria fans will see the youngest forward line operating in the league, with an average age of 18, performing for the Saints. Tommy Milsted, the oldest, is 22 and the others are Matthews, 17; Jankovitch, 18; Whittaker, 18, and Harrison, 19. The Saints recently took on Matthews, Harrison, Jankovitch and Don Petrie, the latter pair from Vancouver high school clubs.

Players making the trip will be Danny Kulai, goal; Chuck St. Denis and Ossie Ross, backs; Jim Milsted, Don Petrie, and Lee Morley, half backs; Art Matthews, son, Joe Jankovitch, Fred Whittaker, Jack Harrison and Tommy Milsted, forwards. In reserve will be Millar McGill and Pat Brady, backs, and "Pee Wee" Johnstone and Doug Dennison, forwards.

BILL SKIFF MARRIED

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Dorothy E. Sargent, former Mount Vernon, N.Y., beauty parlor operator, and William (Bill) F. Skiff, 46, manager of the Seattle Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League, were married here Tuesday.

The couple were married by district judge William McKnight in the judge's chambers. They were attended by Bill Mulligan, business manager of the Rainiers, and his wife.

Frankie Brimsek was unbeatable on 41 shots. However at 9:46 of the last frame, Carveth let go a whistling shot which gave Wings the edge. With seconds of playing time left, Don Grosso made the verdict more decisive when he tallied on a long shot after Brimsek had been hauled from the ice for an extra forward.

Gas Stations Quiet As Rationing Starts

Gas station attendants twiddled their thumbs today and hoped the gasoline Victoria motorists filled up with the last few days would soon run out. On the first morning of gas rationing the stations did hardly any business.

"Everyone has enough gas for a week," one attendant said. "They've been stocking up the last few days."

Tuesday afternoon most stations had cars lined up five and six deep. Everyone wanted a full tank.

Today one dealer said: "Business is terrible; another said 'it's a little slow; another, 'we haven't done any today—I hope we're not forgotten entirely; we've still got to live.'"

ENOUGH FOR WEEK-END

A survey shows that Victorians probably have enough gas for the Easter week-end, if they use it carefully.

Traffic policemen are frankly skeptical of "this fill 'er up business."

"It's all very well to think you've got enough," said one. "We're expecting lots of cars to get stuck on the roads or in garages."

The present unit is five gallons. A motorist may buy either two and a half gallons or five gallons. So far there's been so little business that dealers cannot quite figure out whether motorists will use the full unit or take only half. They can buy their entire quarter's ration in 10 days if they wish and then tie their cars up until July 1, when the next quarter starts. Starting today it is impossible to buy less than two and a half gallons at a time.

CUSTOMER GONE

Gone are the days when smart young men can drive into service station and shout "fill 'er up with one" and make collections of pennies from their passengers to pay for it.

Gas station dealers expect a lull in their business until early in the week.

"They gave us the rush the last few days and so we're expecting to be ignored until Monday or Tuesday."

By filling up before rationing started motorists saved some coupons for future dry days.

People Flee Before Chinaman With Axe

Chow Chong Git, middle-aged Chinese, ran amok in Chinatown Tuesday, with a meat axe, threatening pedestrians and attacking a detective before he was finally downed by three city police officers.

Chow walked into Loy Sing's butcher shop, 555 Fisgard, and picked up a short-handled, but sharp axe from the meat block. He smashed windows of Hong Hip Yick's shop, 545 Fisgard.

Waving the axe threateningly, he soon had Fisgard Street cleared of pedestrians. He threatened A. Stokes, meat salesman.

Chow is reported to have chased another man down Fisgard and along Government, but the man kept going and has not been identified.

Detectives Henry F. Jarvis and Louis Callon and Constable Norman Galbraith were assigned to capture the Chinaman.

Detective Jarvis approached him, and the Chinese raised the axe over his shoulder to strike the detective. The Chinese lost his grip. The axe fell to the pavement.

Detective Jarvis dove for the axe. Constable Galbraith downed the Chinese.

Chow is now at the city lock-up. Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, is attending him.

Amyot Back

Pressure of War Threatens Health

Steady and growing pressure on everyone in North America, because of the war, is seen as a threat to the health of this continent by Dr. G. F. Amyot, B.C.'s health officer, who returned today by air from conferences with health authorities in Washington and Ottawa.

"The health of this continent is fairly well at the moment, but pressure on everyone is daily increasing and health problems are bound to grow greater," Dr. Amyot said. "We must increase our activities to safeguard the health of our people, because if it ever gets away from us it will be very difficult to bring it back."

Dr. Amyot said he and the health officers of the other eight provinces discussed with Dominion health authorities the health of everyone, "men in the armed forces, workers in war industries and the taxpayers as well."

In Washington Dr. Amyot attended the conference of state and provincial health authorities and was elected vice-president of that group.

City Soldiers Glad To Be Home From War Zone in Britain

Sgt. W. C. Simpson, C.S.R., with his wife and two children, Billy and Donny.

Sgt. R. C. Pearce, R.C.A., met by his wife, Ann.

Scenes similar to those in 1918-19 were witnessed Tuesday and today at the C.P.R. dock when 26 of Victoria soldiers who have been serving overseas were greeted by wives, children, parents and friends.

Looking thoroughly hardened and fit after their strenuous life in Britain the men represented many branches of the service including the 1st Canadian Scottish Regiment, the P.P.C.L.I., R.C.A., R.C.E. and R.C.O.C.

All of them were glad to be back but all said they had been treated well overseas and had enjoyed the experience. At least one man, Corp. S. J. Pocock of the P.P.C.L.I., saw a daughter for the first time. She was born one year, 11 months ago, soon after he had left for overseas.

AWAY TWO YEARS

The returned men, most of whom have been in Britain for over two years have been trained in specialized phases of mechanized warfare and will pass on to troops in Canada, the benefit of the experience they have gained.

First, however, they will take a few precious days' leave. They will probably remain in Canada from nine months to a year.

Vancouver Island men in the group are: Sgt. S. D. Armstrong, 212 Raynor Avenue; Sgt. C. Graham, Cornox; R.C.S.M. J. M. Green, Port Alberni; Cpl. J. B. Parsons, Maple Bay; Cpl. E. R. Churches and organizations which regularly use Easter lilies will get first call and the public will have what is left over, if any, or take substitute flowers.

The lilies from Saanich and Bermuda are not as well adapted to home use as the Japanese variety, as they are much taller and do not fit household surroundings as well as the dwarf flowers from across the Pacific.

The Saanich lily, commonly known as the White Queen, is not produced in large enough quantities to supply the usual Easter demand, but with the principal market shut off it is expected the cultivation of seed-grown lilies here will expand into a profitable industry.

News of Escapees Gets Back to N.E.I.

MELBOURNE (CP)—Netherlanders in the Japanese-occupied East Indies gather at short-wave radios nightly to listen to broadcasts from Melbourne reporting the safe arrival of escaped relatives, sweethearts and friends in Australia, the Aneta news agency says.

The Australian broadcasting service, in co-operation with the Netherlands Indies authorities here, has inaugurated a special nightly broadcast of personal messages from refugees. It is beamed to the East Indies.

The terse messages are usually limited to reporting "safe arrival," and perhaps adding a request that listeners who pick up the broadcast relay the information to the proper parties.

Coldwell Says Equipment Greatest Need

MONTREAL (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.P.E. leader in the House of Commons, told a dinner meeting of the Montreal Junior Board of Trade Tuesday night the Canadian parliamentary party which visited Britain last November was told "very definitely" Canada "should not feel compelled to rush partially-trained troops across the Atlantic."

The party was informed the greatest need was for war equipment, Mr. Coldwell said.

"A few remaining leaders in Canada," he said, "still felt confident the war would be won by great masses of men using bayonets. Such a theory was outdated, and there could be no doubt any longer that the struggle would be won by the side which used the best technicians in the best planes, tanks and ships."

"We were told frankly that the greatest need was for food and for war equipment of all kinds. I want to say that it is still equipment that is needed."

Com. Lamb Here

Gives Views on Basis of Peace

Canada and the United States says Commissioner David C. Lamb of the Salvation Army, must contemplate migration and settlement on a vast scale after the war is over, and planning for this development must be done now.

Commissioner Lamb is visiting the city over the Easter holidays.

"Canada and the United States," said Commissioner Lamb, "are bound to play a large part in the reconstruction of the world after the war is over and I feel that it is all important that the great economic and political questions which we already see looming in the distance and now taking shape should be approached from a spiritual angle—from the Christian standpoint. How much can be put into the new order and not how much can we get out is the sure way to a permanent and happy settlement."

"Europe will be very sick and Britain will be in the throes of the greatest social, economic, industrial and political upheaval ever known," he said. "Think of the homes destroyed and uprooted. Millions of decent families will perforce have to make a fresh start. I can predict with some confidence that hundreds of thousands will desire to settle on the North American continent."

The answer, he said, must be at once generous and adequate. There must be no hesitancy among the workers, lest newcomers usurp their positions and create unemployment.

People in a well-ordered state produced more than they consumed and the country was thereby enriched. "You cannot develop your vast natural resources without labor, which in the very nature of things creates new markets," the commissioner said.

Commissioner Lamb is of the opinion that under the new order there will not be the prolonged and widespread unemployment which blighted the world after the last war.

"I know," he said, "there is a large group of influential statesmen and financiers who are determined that that will not occur. In the United States I have found in responsible quarters a ready disposition to co-operate with the Dominion as she sees her way to embark on large-scale works of development and settlement."

Ready for Overseas Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt. Col. E. H. Minns of Ottawa, special returning officer, and Capt. L. A. Giroux of Strathmore, Que., have arrived in the United Kingdom to supervise the taking of the manpower plebiscite vote, it was learned here.

Col. Minns and Capt. Giroux took with them to Britain the printed supplies necessary for the active service vote there. Their office will be established in London and the service voters will mail their ballots in special envelopes. Counting will take place under the special officers' direction.

LONDON (CP)—Air Commodore Raymond Collishaw, above, famous Canadian flier who for several months commanded R.A.F. squadrons in the Middle East, has been promoted to acting air vice-marshal, the London Gazette announced Tuesday.

Collishaw, 47, native of Nanaimo, B.C., now is air chief of a fighter group in Britain. He was recently on leave in Canada. In the first Great War he shot down 60 enemy planes. Among Canadian pilots only Air Marshal Billy Bishop, V.C., outranked him in this respect.

Orchard Returns

Forest Fire Plans Being Considered

Ottawa authorities are now considering B.C.'s detailed requests for adequate protection of this province's forests next summer. C. D. Orchard, chief forester for B.C. said today on his return from the national capital.

He said he was somewhat disappointed he was unable to complete arrangements when he was in Ottawa.

"We were progressing well and reached the point of signing on the dotted line when the House rose and discussions ended," he said.

"However, we received a very sympathetic hearing and they said they would do everything possible to help us. How much that will be still in the bag and we have, as yet, no way of knowing."

E. E. Gregg, forester-in-charge of protection, went to Ottawa with Mr. Orchard. They flew home and stopped en route to inspect work at Kananaskis Forest Experimental Station and Banff National Park in the Rockies.

Mr. Orchard said he is not at liberty to tell in detail what B.C. is asking for forest protection until Ottawa announces plans for co-operation.

A.R.P. Activities

A.R.P. wardens of Saanich District 5C North will meet Thursday at 8 in Marigold Hall.

District 3A wardens will meet in Britannia Branch Hall April 13 at 8, when District Warden G. H. Hallett will speak on "Report Writing." Members are advised to write their new registration numbers on the reverse side of the blue cards. Those who have not attended the last three meetings are liable to be struck off the roll unless a satisfactory reason is given to their patrol leaders or the district warden.

This evening the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing will have a musical evening. J. Sullivan will give selections on his English concertina and will provide music for a sing-song, commencing at 8:15 at the clubrooms, 1416 Douglas Street.

Mackenzie Pledges Aid For A.R.P. Needs Here

Greater Victoria civic, municipal and A.R.P. leaders laid their civilian protection problems before Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Health and Pensions, today and received definite assurance of assistance on certain points.

The minister said he would recommend that the federal government pay half the costs of Victoria's two-way radio equipment for use in event of air raids.

"We will be glad to assist in equipping a Japanese fish boat with pumps as a fire boat. I am sure that we can meet you on several of the points raised today," he said.

Mr. Mackenzie said he considered Esquimalt a national problem of the first importance, indicating his willingness to move for special consideration of that municipality's needs.

The minister thanked the areas represented at the conference for the fine work they were doing and expressed willingness to see how he could help them.

"What we are after here is to try to get more help than we are getting and I know you are a good sort of chap who will help us," said Mayor McGavin before calling on Inspector A. H. Bishop, A.R.P. chief, to outline city needs.

WANTS 500 STIRRUP PUMPS

Inspector Bishop called for action to release stirrup pumps to a number of 500 for this territory at a nominal price and was assured the matter would receive consideration. His plea for quick action on locally-constructed haversacks brought the same response.

In reply to question on personnel laid down in the government's suggested model A.R.P. set-up, Mr. Mackenzie stated the model was purely a guide and personnel could be increased or decreased at need.

Inspector Bishop outlined fire dangers on the industrial reserve, called for emptying of gasoline storage tanks there and outlined plans for acquisition of a fireboat. His plea on the latter point received endorsement from the minister.

Emphasizing equipment shortages, the inspector asked for help from the federal government in a material way.

A.R.P. COMPENSATION

Questions covering compensation for A.R.P. workers, in practice and on duty, were discussed, the minister explaining certain action on that line could not be announced pending passage of orders-in-council now on the way.

Reeve W. L. Woodhouse, Oak Bay, pursued the compensation question and was promised a synopsis of regulations covering the point. He specified Oak Bay's particular needs at one ambulance, explained the municipality's position on the two-way radio scheme, and urged military guards on the water system before asking for information on use of cars in case of emergency.

Reeve Alex Lockley, Esquimalt, stressed the strategic importance of the drydock, naval and military centres and ship-building facilities in a request for a special dispensation from Ottawa. He was asked to confer later with Mr. Mackenzie on his municipality. The reeve also called for military guarding of the water supply source and lines.

Albert Heald, A.R.P. chief for Esquimalt, asked particularly for two more 150-gallon bicycle pumps, 3,000 feet of 2½-inch hose, at least two more sirens and an ambulance if such could be secured.

E. D. W. Leven, Saanich A.R.P. leader, sought mobile equipment, including three ambulances, outlined strategic points in his district, mentioned forest fire dangers and asked for protection equipment for the urban Saanich centres in particular.

Alderman Archie Willis, city ward member, sought a ruling on auxiliary fire equipment and advice on the methods by which fire protection equipment might be pooled. The minister suggested local co-operation on that line.

Both Oak Bay and the city spoke in favor of full coverage for Esquimalt.

Alderman J. A. Worthington put in a plea for consideration for the hospitals which had made large outlays for A.R.P. work and needed funds for supplies.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Victoria, who arranged the interview, assisted in explanation of certain local conditions.

training, known as the "hardening-up" process.

Tomorrow the minister will inspect key defence points in the Victoria military area.

Warren Elected Reeve for Year

E. C. Warren was elected acting reeve for the remainder of the year at the regular meeting of the Saanich Council Tuesday night. Mr. Warren had been acting temporarily as reeve since the beginning of the year in the absence of late Reeve J. R. Scoby, who was ill during that time.

The meeting, the first since Mr. Scoby's death last Friday, was unanimous in appointing Mr. Warren as chairman of the council for the remainder of the year.

A standing vote of condolence to Mrs. Scoby on her husband's death, was passed.

The meeting discussed estimates and the mill rate, no definite action being taken, however. At the meeting next Tuesday it is hoped to set the 1942 rate.

A delegation of property owners from Cadboro Bay attended the meeting, requesting improved water service for that area. Reeve Warren informed them everything possible was being done to bring about an improvement.

The municipal clerk, W. Greene, was authorized to call for tenders for insurance of all municipal equipment, for which renewal is due April 23.

Auto Damaged in Crash With Street Car

A car driven west on Oak Bay Avenue by Peter A. Smith, 918 McCaskill Street, was considerably damaged Tuesday night when it and a No. 1 street car operated by C. W. Pittman, 1704 Denman Street, collided.

Police reported the right rear tire of Smith's car blew out, causing the car to swerve into the path of the street car. No one was injured. Damage to the street car was slight.

Ss. Stewart Trial

Says No Drills Held Aboard Ship

Jack Weinberg, first officer of the Dominion government hydrographic survey ship William J. Stewart, said today at a new trial of six stokers charged with refusing, without reasonable excuse, to proceed on a voyage of their ship to the west coast of Vancouver Island, no boat or fire drills had been held on the ship during the last year.

The first trial, which was withdrawn on a legal technicality, opened in city police court last Tuesday. Frederick J. Baker, justice of the peace, began hearing evidence on the new trial this morning.

The six firemen, F. Roma, P. Rudling, P. J. O'Bryne, H. C. Mason, G. Becker and J. Mercedes, refused to sail on the William J. Stewart.

The men said they wanted a $15 a month war bonus.

Weinberg said he did not know ships had to have boat and fire drills and he had never been ordered by the captain to hold the drills. He said the seamen were already experienced at lowering boats.

Lieutenants, Weinberg said, were equipped with all the necessary provisions.

J. B. Clearhue, K.C., represents the crown. J. Howard Harman appears for all the accused but Roma.

The hearing continues this afternoon.

ROONEY, GARLAND, HERE IN 'BABES'

That amazing young man of the screen, Mickey Rooney, is currently at the Capitol Theatre and literally "went to town" in the most entertaining performance of his career in M.G.M.'s new musical, "Babes on Broadway."

Co-starred with Judy Garland, and aided by a large supporting cast featuring Fay Bainter and such youthful song-and-dance artists as Virginia Weidler, Ray McDonald and Richard Quine, the latter two graduates of the New York musical comedy stage, Rooney and his gang deliver an evening of entertainment worth anybody's time and money. "Babes on Broadway" is built for entertainment from start to finish.

'Another Thin Man' At York Friday

Success in anything will come if you simply take it easy. Advice like that sounds paradoxical coming from Myrna Loy, who appears with William Powell in "Another Thin Man," coming Friday to the York Theatre.

For Miss Loy is one of the busiest women in Hollywood and, at first glance, it would seem impossible for her to "take it easy" and still keep up with all the things she has to do. For the last several years she has been appearing in one hit after another. She is married to Producer Arthur Hornblum Jr. and meets all the housekeeping and social obligations of the average housewife. She supervises the cultivation of five acres of fruits and flowers at her canyon home and finds time to ride, swim, play tennis and add to her already large art gallery.

DOMINION THEATRE

"A Yank on the Burma Road," which is now at the Dominion Theatre, emphasizes the headlines you have been reading on what has been called the "most significant highway of our day," the Burma Road.

The picture also brings a new leading man to the screen, one Barry Nelson. His vigorous and at times inspired portrayal of a cab driver forced into the spot of leading a fleet of trucks over the Burma Road is moving and heart-warming.

Laraine Day creates an unforgettable portrait of a woman's blinding devotion to her man, whatever the consequences—until she sees the havoc he has wrought.

CADET THEATRE

A brand new movie star makes his debut in the new M.G.M. musical, "Lady Be Good," starring Eleanor Powell, Ann Sothern and Robert Young, now at the Cadet Theatre.

The star's name is Buttons, a dog, and one of the smartest ever to perform before Hollywood's cameras. He isn't in dogdom's bluebook, being a cross between a beagle and a fox terrier, but he's a full-fledged member of Tailwaggers, an honor bestowed upon him by dancer Eleanor Powell with whom he does a complete routine in the film.

TO JOIN U.S. ARMY IN MAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective service headquarters announced today that men who registered Feb. 16 would be immediately classified and some probably would be inducted into service in May or June. There had been some confusion as to whether the Feb. 16 registrants would be integrated with men who registered prior to that date or be called after exhaustion of all previous registrants.

OAK BAY—PLAZA THEATRES

Elizabeth Bergner, acclaimed one of the greatest European actresses of modern times, has at last succumbed to the lure of Hollywood.

With Randolph Scott as her co-star, the talented Miss Bergner is appearing in Universal's "Paris Calling," now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

The star will be remembered for her excellent work in the British-made pictures, "Escape Me Never," "Catherine the Great," "As You Like It," and "Stolen Life," all of which enjoyed great popularity.

The player is a slight, brown-haired, brown-eyed girl with a remarkable talent for drama. The greatest actress Europe has ever produced," Charles Laughton, famous film star declares.

RIO THEATRE

Deanna Durbin is growing up, but definitely. The singing star of Universal's "Three Smart Girls Grow Up," now at the Rio Theatre, no longer succumbs to the lure of ice cream for her dessert at luncheon every day. She has whittled it down to twice a week.

April Fool Jokes Go Back Hundreds of Years

Back in the times of ancient Rome, there were special days on which people played jokes on one another. Those days did not fall near April 1, but the idea may have been passed on. It also is possible that the custom came to Europe from India, where the Joke-filled Feast of Hull has been observed for many centuries. This feast falls on March 31, which is very close to the April 1.

Duke and Duchess escaping from Nantes on April Fool's Day.

Four centuries ago, the French started their New Year on March 25, and they kept up the merry-making until April 1. New Year's day was changed to January 1 in 1564, but many persons did not observe the change. They made merry at the end of March, just as in former times. To punish, or make fun of such persons, jokes were played on them on April 1. They were called "April fish."

In old England it was common for a boy to be sent to the grocer for "a pint of pigeon's milk." Another English April Fool trick was to send a lad to a shoemaker for "strap oil." The shoemaker would "lay on" with the strap, but would not whip the boy very hard.

Still another false errand came when a grown-up would say to a child:

"Go to such-and-such a bookstore, and buy me a copy of 'The History of Eve's Grandmother'."

A story is told about an April Fool's day long ago in France. The Duke of Lorraine, 'tis said, was held prisoner in the walled city of Nantes. His wife was also a prisoner.

Early in the morning, the duke and the duchess disguised themselves and started toward the city gates. The duke carried a bricklayer's hod, and his wife carried a load of rubbish. Thinking they were poor folk, the gatekeeper let them pass. A woman who knew the duke passed them on the road, and ran to tell the gatekeeper, but he laughed and said, "This is April Fool's Day." The prisoners made good their escape.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

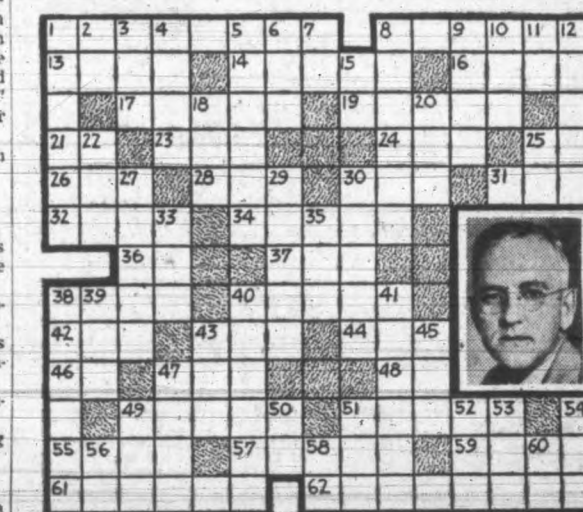

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We are a young married couple with one child, and up until the last few months have been happily married. Now, for some reason I cannot explain, our marriage is being wrecked by the useless and senseless quarrels and arguments my wife and I have been having lately. These leave me so upset that I am miserable for days. To be honest, I will admit that I am headstrong and do not like to be bossed. I don't want to be henpecked, as the man next door to us is by his wife who runs the family and wears the pants and tells him where he gets on and off. I believe my wife gets ideas from this woman and I have asked her not to associate with this feminine Hitler, because I won't be changed into the type of man he is. I am good to my wife and love her and my baby very much, but I will not continue to live with her if she keeps on starting these useless arguments. Can you help us to straighten things out and return once more to the days when we were happy together?
JIM.

Answer: Perhaps you are right and your trouble is the result of your wife falling under the baneful influence of the bossy lady. So why don't you move and get her into a better environment?

It is undoubtedly true that the women who henpeck their husbands are proud of their achievement and boast of it to other women. They tell you how they "don't let" their husbands do this, or that, and how they "make" their husbands do as they say about everything until they often cause young and inexperienced wives to think they themselves are showing a lack of independence, and that they should flout their husbands' wishes and emulate Mrs. Fuehrer's tactics. Which naturally brings about arguments that don't tend to make peace in the family unless a man happens to have the disposition of a worm.

DOROTHY DIX.

Royal Ordnance Corps Seeking Office Men

Men who hold degrees in commerce or who have experience in accountancy are urgently needed by the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, states Lt.-Col. H. E. Goodman, district recruiting officer for M.D. 11.

Application may be made by letter or in person to the district ordnance officer, Esquimalt, and applicants should be between the ages of 20 and 35 and of junior matriculation standing.

Others with experience in book-keeping, auditing, office management and general clerical work will also be considered. After serving four months, men who show outstanding ability will be considered for selection for commissions.

New Type School For Canada's Army

OTTAWA (CP) — An experiment aimed at simplifying army studies for men who lack the benefits of adequate education will go into effect at North Bay, Ont., shortly with establishment there of a new "educational basic training centre," it was learned at National Defence headquarters.

"The object of the new school will be to teach military subjects in such a way that fellows who haven't the benefit of education when they enter the service can absorb their courses more easily," a spokesman said.

He added it was anticipated that if the project was successful the plan would be extended to other parts of Canada.

Staff of the North Bay school will be comprised of army instructors who have civilian experience as teachers. Aside from army subjects, English will be taught for the benefit of army men who do not speak the language well. This provision was made for such people as Ukrainians, rather than French Canadians.

Win Commissions

OTTAWA (CP) — Meritorious service in operations overseas has won commissioned rank for more pilots, observers and wireless operator-air gunners in the R.C.A.F.

Six pilots, two air observers and two wireless operator air gunners have been commissioned as pilot officers. They include Pilot-Sgt. William MacMillan Fraser, Vancouver, and Air Observer-Sgt. Colin Summers Campbell, Vancouver.

Posthumous Award Of Victoria Cross

LONDON (CP) — Posthumous award of the Victoria Cross to Lieut. James J. B. Jackman for bravery during the British offensive in Libya in November has been announced.

The award was for Jackman's skillful leadership of a machine gun company of Royal Northumberland Fusiliers in a tank attack Nov. 25 on Ed Duda ridge near Tobruk.

In announcing the award, the London Gazette said Jackman enabled the tanks to hold the ridge after its capture by manoeuvring his machine guns into protecting flank positions, despite a withering enemy fire.

Jackman lost his life after his solidly-established guns had assured the success of the tank attack.

A Fog-dissipating Book

OBSERVER in the Toronto Star writes that he has read a number of books on the new Russia, some favorable and some otherwise, but his feeling after reading Anna Louise Strong's "The Soviet Expected It" is that none have held such enthralling interest.

This book is not overladen with statistics, and the few that are given are illuminating; her impressions of Soviet achievements and ways are illustrated by good stories; more than any other writer of books on Soviet Russia, Dr. Strong seems to write from the inside. Best of all she discusses the particular questions all of us are interested in just now, such as, are the Russian people solidly behind the Soviet government? What are the chances of Hitler this spring if he should be able to establish himself after the present retreat and make a fresh invasion? Could he ever conquer the Russia behind the Urals? Were the Moscow trials justified? Has Russia been consistent in her relations with Great Britain?

Anyone who will not learn a great deal that he did not know about Russia from this book must know a great deal already. Dr. Strong first visited Russia more than 20 years ago, and has been in close contact with it ever since, making her home there for 10 years and speaking the language. Longmans, Green and Company are the Canadian agents for the book (215 Victoria Street, Toronto).

First, Dr. Strong obviously likes the Russians, which gives her an advantage. People open up to one who likes them. She confesses that she "never fell" for the talk about the "mystery" of the Russians. She finds the rank and file of them very like the people she grew up with in the pioneer western states.

"In the western land of my childhood a penny bar of candy was considered a treat; standards of living were crude as compared with today. But the one unforgivable crime was to fail to believe in human progress and to fail to boost it along as it came. Today in the U.S.S.R. the standard of living is crudely simple but the people have the faith that you search for almost in vain in the little lands of Europe. It is the faith that we human beings, by the twin tools of human co-operation and science, are able to conquer all problems presented by nature, even the problem of our own backward souls."

"Some of the similarities," says Dr. Strong again, "I have seen between Russians and Americans derive, I think, from a similar geography. American engineers who helped build the great industrial enterprises of the first Five-Year Plan, often remarked that only the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. have space adequate for mighty mass production within their own frontiers, and that this creates the sense of powerful and peaceful expansion."

"Russians and Americans farm; the little nations of Europe garden. This gives to Russians and Americans a similar expansive neutrality." This Dr. Strong quotes from Harold Ware, who brought the first American tractor unit to Russia in the great Volga famine of 1921-22. He added that the North Dakota boys who came with him to teach the Russians to run tractors noticed that the Russian peasants had a brand of humor similar to their own; a kind of rough, but nonmalicious practical joking.

Dr. Strong thinks that some of the Russian humor produced by the war resembles also the American brand. "It is not, like British humor, based on understatement; it is based on cheerful gulling and picturesque brag."

Of the almost magical city of Magnitogorsk in the southern Urals she says, "The town dealt in superlatives; every one of its accessory plants was the 'biggest ever known.'"

In Alma Alta, another wonder town of the great republic of Kazakhstan, where she went by special train with three-score journalists from all over the world to attend the completion of its first railway, she met Comrade Orestov, editor-in-chief of the Kazakhstan Pravda.

"Kazakhstan," poured out from his lips, "has more than 1,000,000 square miles. It is bigger than the 14 chief European countries taken together. We are the biggest republic in the union; we reach from the Ural Mountains to China, from the snows of the Siberian Altai to the blue Caspian Sea. We have everything: Wheat, livestock, cotton, every kind of mineral, etc."

How pleasantly it recalled to me the kind of talk in private and in public that you would hear in the Canadian west in the years of the great "boom." And that could be heard in the American west 40 years before, but with greater likelihood of being kept up in Russia where the land and the mines belong to the whole people.

It is absurd to doubt the loyalty to their government of the Soviet people, chockfull as they are of pride and confidence in their unprecedented venture. Let a Jew speak, a Jew of the republic of Birobidjan, run by Jews, a race hounded, plundered, tortured or at least abused and threatened almost everywhere else in the modern world: "Our country," he said to Dr. Strong, "was once the most oppressed in the world, and now it is the happiest. And the luckiest—oh, incredibly the luckiest! Now when the whole world slips farther and farther towards chaos and bitter struggle we know that our children are safe."

Now, each day's news makes it more certain that the great experiment is no longer in doubt. Russia is there, there to stay and to be, in some respects at least, an inspiration to the people that are not, like her, boiling over with enthusiasm for their own happy condition.

Of the charge of the inconsistency Dr. Strong makes mince-meat. The United States has from the first been the lodestar of Soviet Russia. And since Britain with 13 other nations abandoned the hopeless and muddled some task of destroying the young Hercules in his cradle, almost any unfriendliness between the two countries has been on the side of Britain. The alliance eagerly sought by Britain after the present war began Russia had already proposed again and again only to be snubbed by a misrepresentative British government. It was only when Stalin had become convinced that an alliance with Britain was impossible that he entered into not an alliance but only a nonaggression pact with Hitler, to gain time to prepare against the invasion which he had always foreseen was the unconcealed aim of Hitler.

Circulate Bogus Coins In Vancouver; Here?

Police said today counterfeit 50-cent pieces reported circulated in Vancouver would probably drift over to Victoria. A Victorian Monday turned in to police one spurious 50-cent piece which he said he thought he had received at a downtown store Saturday.

Vancouver merchants were warned by police today to be on the lookout for the bogus 50-cent pieces which have been passed in various parts of the city. Authorities are attempting to check the sources of the counterfeit coins.
